ALLIES THREATEN WAR ON HUNGARY

STILLMAN TO PAY BIG SUM

Future Holds Victory For Guy, But Danger For Jay Leeds

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.—(By Associated Press)—Temporary alimony of $7,500 a month, counsel fees of $35,000 and $12,500 for expenses were fixed today for Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, by Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser, in the suit for divorce instituted against her by James A. Stillman, president of the National City Bank of New York.

Mrs. Stillman had asked alimony of $10,000 a month and $75,000 counsel fees. Justice Morschauser made public his decision after he had transmitted it to the court clerk at White Plains along with the affidavits and pleadings presented in the case.

RULES OUT LETTERS
In his decision the justice ruled out of the divorce suit as confidential and privileged the alleged "confession" letter written to Mr. Stillman by his wife. He also ruled out letters alleged to have been written to Mrs. Stillman by Fred Beauvais, an Indian guide, who was named in the banker's complaint as correspondent and accused of being the father of Mrs. Stillman's infant son, Guy.

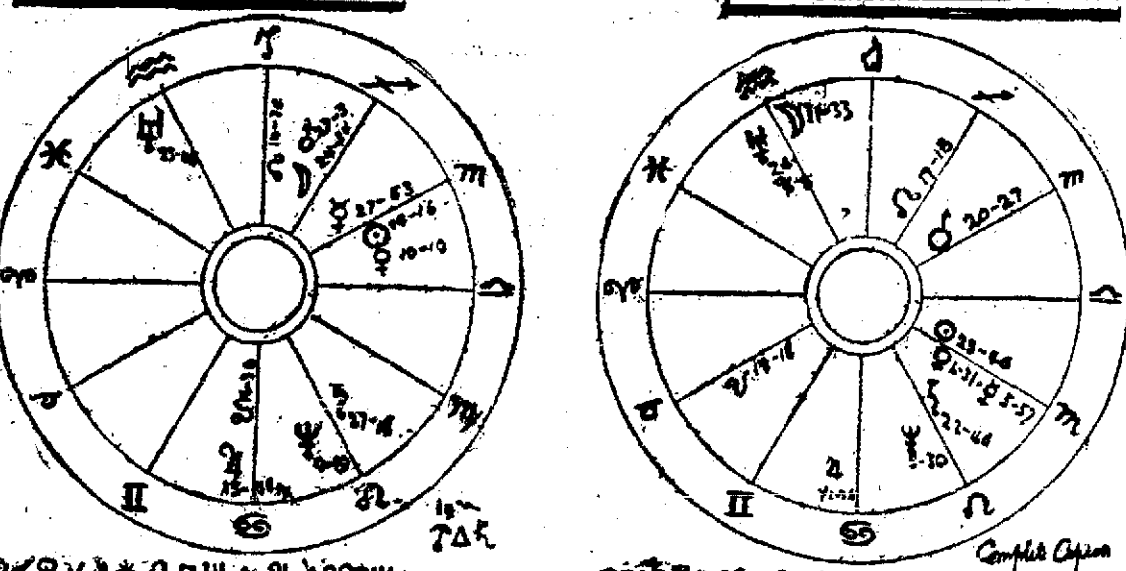

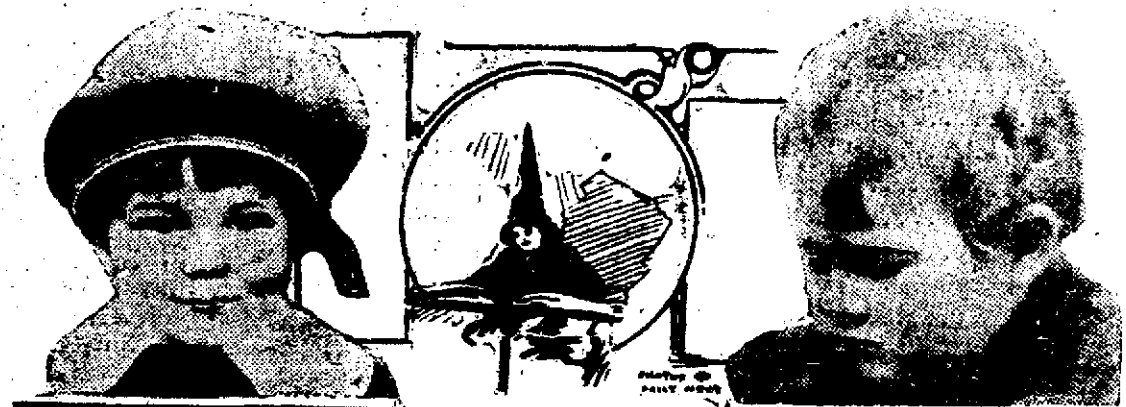

With regard to Guy Stillman, alleged son of Fred Beauvais, the justice said:

"Our law, in its wisdom, provides for the care and protection of those who cannot protect themselves, especially infants and those of tender years. There is such an infant in this case. The infant is made a defendant and its paternity questioned. The courts are charged with the duty of protecting it."

"In this case, the infant is represented by an honored and eminent member of the bar, who will protect the infant's interests and give the best that is in him. The interests of the defendant and infant's case are to a great extent the same."

Mystic signs of the zodiac that control lives of Stillman and Leeds babies, as Belle Hart, left, and Jay Leeds, right, and Guy Stillman, the babies whose futures are discussed.

NEW YORK—(Special)—Astrological influences could not be better portrayed than in the horoscopes of little Guy Stillman and Jay Leeds, who in spite of themselves are being made the center of world-wide publicity. So says Miss Belle Hart, astrologer, who has "read the future" of these lads. James A. Stillman, millionaire New York banker, charges that Guy is the son of his wife and a Canadian guide. Mrs. Stillman, in her counter-suit for divorce, says Jay Leeds is Stillman's son. The boy's mother is Mrs. Florence Leeds, "the other woman."

Says Miss Hart: "It cannot be said that these children are not at the present time the makers of their own lives. Hence the factors of will not being present leaves the full weight of eloquence to be borne by the present horoscopes. The stars indeed speak truly."

"In 1918 the Leeds and Stillman babies were born at a fatalistic time when the planet Saturn, the Oppressor, was unfriendly to the revolutionary Uranus and the Moon, ruler of the subtle life forces was fastening to the most malefic bodies, Saturn and Uranus."

STILLMAN HOROSCOPE
"Now it so happens that in 1921, approaching the third year after birth of both infants, the aspect is complete and throws thereby its maximum force for evil and scandal. This, determines the event, hence this trouble."

"The planets being in fixed signs, it is safe to predict a lengthy controversy which will leave its stamp and exact a heavy toll in after days upon these two children."

"It is no mere chance to work to have two children born within barely two months of each other who would be so inextricably entangled in litigation."

"In both charts the malefic

SHIP GOES DOWN, TEN MISSING

Seven Passengers. Three of Crew May be Drowned

SEATTLE, Wash.—(By Associated Press)—Seven passengers and three members of the crew of the steamship Governor, sunk off Point Wilson, are missing, according to a wireless message at 7:15 a. m. from the steamer West Hartland which is bringing the survivors to Seattle. The passenger steamer, Governor, of the Admiral Line, en route from San Pedro, Cal., to Seattle, rammed the freighter West Hartland, bound from Seattle to Bombay and sank off Point Wilson, near Port Townsend, Washington, shortly before midnight last night.

The S. O. S. received at midnight, said the Governor rammed the West Hartland and was sinking. The West Hartland was carrying serious damage. It was reported the Princess Adelaide was en route and would arrive at the scene of the collision within three hours.

At 12:55 a. m. another message from the West Hartland said: "No use sending Adelaide. Boat from West Hartland looking for survivors."

No details are available as to the cause of the collision. Officials of the Admiral Line here were notified but were unable to give any further information.

The collision occurred at the Port Warden's office, occurred at the entrance to the Port Townsend harbor in a heavy fog. The steamer, Princess Adelaide, Princess Adelaide and the freighter were in the vicinity at the time.

The Governor's crew approximately 126 men, most of whom were recruited in Seattle.

BUDAPEST TOLD TO BAR EX-EMPEROR

Warning is Sounded by Entente Council at Paris

FORMER RULER IS DEFIANT

Still Marching on Capital With Strong Army

PARIS—(By United Press)—The allies today warned Hungary that "disastrous consequences" will result if former Emperor Carl is restored to the throne. The warning was dispatched by the council of allied ambassadors. The note declared the allies will not tolerate a Hapsburg restoration nor recognize any such government.

ENTENTE TO STRIKE

PARIS—(By Associated Press)—Two authentic facts appear to stand out of the mass of sensational rumors relative to the attempt of former Emperor Charles to reestablish himself as head of the Hungarian government. The first is that Charles is still in Hungary, and the second is that the "little entente," comprising Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Jugoslavia, and even the "big entente" are ready to strike if the former emperor succeeds in his enterprise.

Premier Briand's newspaper, the Belait, understands the entente governments are considering the steps they will take in the event that the Hungarian situation is NOT rapidly cleared up. Among these measures, it is declared, the blockade of Hungary is being considered.

"CAUSE FOR WAR"

PARIS—(By Associated Press)—A Berlin dispatch announces that troops which left Steinmanger for Budapest have arrived at Raab, about 75 miles from the Hungarian capital.

A newspaper report from Vienna states that General Lehar, governor of West Hungary, has informed the Hungarian legation at the Austrian capital that Charles has decided to return to Budapest at the head of his troops.

The former emperor was said to take the view that allied opposition would be aimed only at him, and that in case his return to Budapest was resisted, he would abdicate in favor of his son.

Advices from Belgrade declare that the Jug-Slav council of ministers has decided that the restoration of the Hapsburgs in Hungary would be considered a cause for war.

REGENT SURRENDERS

PRIBORS, Switzerland—(By Associated Press)—Count Andrássy, former Hungarian foreign minister, has been appointed premier of Hungary by former Emperor Charles, and has sent an ultimatum to Budapest, says dispatch from the Hungarian capital to the Nachrichten of this city.

The dispatch declares that Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian regent, has handed over authority to the former emperor, who has been acclaimed sovereign by several garrisons of troops.

PARLIAMENT MEETS

BUDAPEST—(By United Press)—Facing a choice between monarchy and democracy, the Hungarian parliament met today. Monarchists prepared to press claims of former Emperor Charles.

A monarchist alternative was the declaration of a regency for Charles' oldest son, Prince Otto.

CHARLES' ARMY ADVANCING

PARIS—Admiral Horthy, regent of Hungary, has abdicated in favor of former Emperor Charles, according to a Budapest dispatch today. Charles was reported advancing on Budapest with monarchist troops under General Lehar.

Count Julius Andrássy, former premier, was said to have been named president of a council of ministers to conduct the government until Charles formally resumes his throne. Lehar's army was expected to reach Budapest tonight. The garrison was reported to be ready to go over without resistance.

Cleveland Plants Show in Increase in Operations

CLEVELAND—(By Associated Press)—Automobile plants here had 1,500 more employees today than they did a month ago, a gain of 24 per cent, according to the monthly survey conducted by the Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the United States department of labor. Gain of 4.2 per cent were reported by plants manufacturing food and kindred products, 2 per cent by textile houses and 5.3 per cent by thirteen miscellaneous factories. Ninety-seven plants, normally employing approximately 100,000 persons reported.

ACCUSED OHIOANS CAPTURED

Bays, Charged With Murder, Taken in Florida

AKRON—(By United Press)—Leroy Dunlap, 19, and Louis Neichter, 18, accused slayers of Steve Bosses, who escaped from the Summit jail, May 13, 1920, were captured in Jacksonville, Fla., last night, according to Sheriff Pat Hutchison. The arrests were made by a private detective agency.

Hutchison left last night to return the escaped prisoners. A reward of $1,000 had been offered for the capture of the men.

Neichter escaped while awaiting trial and Dunlap's trial had been going on two days. The prosecutor went ahead with the case and the jury found Dunlap guilty of first degree murder.

Besides these two, five others escaped in the delivery. Moo Vogel, charged with grand larceny; George Neichter, charged with murder and Dan Popovich, charged with grand larceny. Steve Bosses was killed January 13, 1920.

Bulah Givens, sweetheart of George Neichter, is serving time for smuggling saws into the jail for the delivery.

STRIKE DEFERRED

Action Taken by Street Car Men At Toledo

TOLEDO—(By Associated Press)—Officials of the street car men's union today agreed to defer a proposed strike resulting from an announcement by the Community Traction Company that 15 per cent wage reduction would go into effect this morning.

The agreement followed a meeting of the men early in which the wage reduction, together with elimination of the customary two week's vacation, was rejected unanimously.

LIGHT COMPANY CLAIMS A PERPETUAL FRANCHISE

VAN WERT—The Northwestern Ohio Light Co. claims a permanent franchise to furnish electric current to the city of Van Wert, in a letter written by Vice President F. H. Hooper in answer to a query from council following local dissatisfaction with the service rendered. Hooper cites a case in Stark Co. in which Supreme Court of Ohio held that a franchise limiting the term to 25 years, is in effect a perpetual franchise. The city solicitor says he has not investigated the case and can not say whether this case is parallel with that of the Northwestern Ohio Light company and the city of Van Wert.

BODY OF VAN WERT HERO BROUGHT HOME FOR BURIAL

VAN WERT—The body of Lieutenant Melburn Priddy, son of Emerson Priddy of Chicago, former Van Wert lawyer will be brought here for burial on its arrival from Hoboken where it has been sent from France. Lieutenant Priddy, who was one of the first Van Wert boys to cross, was killed in action in France during a gas attack by the Germans. Services for the dead soldier will be held by the local post of the American Legion.

1,200,000 COAL DIGGERS STRIKE

English Miners Walk Out—Transport Men May Join

LONDON—(By Associated Press)—All work ceased in the coal mines of the United Kingdom at midnight, with the exception of a very few districts, and approximately 1,200,000 miners were idle today as a result of the controversy over the wage issue. In only two collieries in Yorkshire, one in Northumberland, one in Scotland and one in North Wales, the men have promised to continue at their posts without prejudice to any terms that may be agreed upon, but all other pit workers, including mechanics, pump men, ventilating men and pony men came out with the miners.

Apprehension is felt that the National Union of Railway Men and the Transport Workers' Union, partners with the miners in the labor dispute, may be tempted to strike in sympathy with the coal diggers. In such an event, the nation would be confronted by a crisis of unprecedented gravity.

One of the largest wards in London took precautionary steps yesterday and formed a company of special police to protect property. Orders were issued last night to employees of various government departments to "stand by" to report for transport duty, if necessary.

GIRL IS ATTACKED

Arizona Woman Throws Acid in Teacher's Face

JEROME, Ariz.—(By Associated Press)—Mrs. Clarence V. Hopkins, wife of a mining engineer, rushed to the Prescott jail today to avoid violence against her, following the throwing of acid into the face of Lucille Gallagher, a school teacher.

Mrs. Hopkins entered a restaurant where Miss Gallagher and another teacher were eating and, according to witnesses, seized the young woman by the hair, pushed her hat back and poured the acid into her eyes, rubbing it in with her hand, which was severely burned.

During the war Mr. Hopkins, Miss Gallagher and another local teacher were in Washington, doing war work.

OHIOAN CONVICTED OF MURDER

Dayton Youth Found Guilty of Killing Boy

DAYTON—(By Associated Press)—After being out since 9 o'clock Thursday night, the jury in the case of Frank Mills, 20, who has been on trial for the past two weeks in common pleas court on a charge of first degree murder for the killing last July of Roy N. Shay, 19, Western Union messenger, boy, today at 6:20 a. m. returned a verdict of guilty in the first degree. Mercy was recommended.

Mills was jointly indicted for the murder with Fred Panstingle, now in the Mansfield reformatory. It was charged by the state the two boys killed Shay in order to obtain his motorcycle to go to the Lancaster, Ohio, Boys' Industrial School to free Martin Wacker, a prisoner there, and a cousin of Panstingle.

Mills surrendered himself last December. His attorneys claimed that Panstingle alone killed Shay and then induced Mills to accompany him on the motorcycle, which was found in Mills' possession when he surrendered.

DOOMED: CARVES CHRIST'S HEAD ON BEAN

NEW YORK—(By International News Service)—A carving of the head of Christ, in which intensity of suffering is expressed in space no larger than that of a silver dollar, has just been exhibited to the public for the first time in its tragic history. That this marvellous miniature reproduction of the death agony of Christ on the cross was inspired by the genius of a great unknown artist is the opinion of experts who have viewed it. The priceless little masterpiece is now in the possession of Mrs. Oliver Harriman, of No. 142 East Fifty-sixth-st., this city.

The carving has won the admiration of prelates and the high approval of artists. The head is carved in relief on the concave pod of a Florida bean, with half the outer shell of the bean making a frame for it. One must use a microscope to perceive the delicacy of the carving, which brings out the features with tender detail, with tears courting down the cheeks. Long exposure has hardened the pod until it is now like yellowed ivory.

The creator of the miniature masterpiece lies in an unknown grave in Spanish Honduras, the victim of a death punishment inflicted by the law of the land. But the gem he has created has inspired artists, prelates and laymen alike to a spirit of humility such as might be caused by the living presence of the Master.

The story its custodians have heard of it is that it was made in 1895 by a man awaiting death in a Guatemala prison. On the way to execution he passed a small package to his jailer to be given to the family of the condemned with the words: "This is my last message."

It remained a souvenir in the family several years, and it was then accepted in discharge of a debt by a man who held a lien on the family home. This new owner kept it for fifteen years, admiring it, but with no thought of its art value, and then he gave it to a Senator Navia, the son of a boyhood companion. After holding it for four years in Madrid, Senator Navia came to New York, where he became enamored of Miss Sonia Nordstrom. Upon their betrothal several years ago he presented the carving to her. Since then she has had financial difficulties.

When it was first entrusted to Mrs. McFadden she showed it to the late Bishop Burch, who assured her it was the most satisfying portrayal of Christ's face he had ever seen. He christened it "Christus de Profundis."

Mrs. McFadden says that at the instance of Bishop M. J. Curley, of the diocese of Florida, she took it to the late Cardinal Gibbons, who blessed it, kissed it three times and said: "You have a treasure. I have never seen anything so exquisite."

Frederick Macmonnies, the sculptor, said of it: "The little head is god-like and infinitely appealing and tender in its agony. The master sculptor who made it must have come thru a life so drenched in sorrow that he was able to carve into that stricken face the soul of suffering."

When the other prelates and artists added their praise, Mrs. McFadden brought the carving to the attention of Mrs. Harriman, who was deeply impressed with it and arranged a private view. It is the purpose of the custodians to try to make searching inquiries concerning the Guatemalan prisoner, in order to bring him posthumous credit for mastery in pictorial sculpture.

SENATE MAY DEFY DAVIS' POLICY

Committee Makes Changes in Reorganization Plan

GOVERNOR'S POSITION PAT

Refuses to Accept Amendments—Solons Recess Today

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — The senate committee on administrative reorganization was expected to recommend for passage today the governor's reorganization bill, after making numerous amendments. The committee worked until midnight last night on various amendments which have been proposed.

GOVERNOR'S POSITION

Governor Davis, it was said, will refuse to accept amendments which have been suggested by public utility interests of the state relative to changes in the state public utilities commission. The governor is insisting that the general policy adopted in the reorganization scheme of having the administrative work of all state departments placed under a director responsible directly to the governor be adhered to. The utility commission is retained merely because they have certain quasi-judicial powers to perform. Under this plan all appointees of the commission would be directly under the director of commerce.

SENATE IN SESSION

The senate was scheduled to take a recess today until Monday. The senate will continue in session next week while the house stands recessed until April 18. Senator Frank E. Whittemore, majority floor leader of the senate, said the senate would not consent to final adjournment until all important bills are disposed of. He said it might be necessary to merely recess until next year if the taxation problem cannot be disposed of at this time. Whittemore said he did not believe the assembly should adjourn sine die until something definite is done concerning the taxation problem.

The senate last night passed bills making the terms of county recorders and county clerks four years beginning with the next election in November 1923.

M'CREARY'S LIMB TO BE AMPUTATED; CONDITION OF FISHER IS UNCHANGED

Herbert McCreary, 33, of 739 W. Wayne-st., who was seriously injured shortly before noon Thursday when run over by a cut of cars at the Third-st. crossing of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, was resting easier at City Hospital Friday.

He is recovering from the shock his attending surgeon said and as soon as he is able to stand the operation his right leg will be amputated below the hip.

Efforts will be made to save his left leg, the surgeon said.

No internal injuries have developed as was first feared he had suffered. Harold Fisher, 25, of 410 N. McDonel-st., was reported as in about the same condition. He was more restless Thursday night. He suffered a broken back last week, in a fall from a bridge.

NO ARRESTS MADE ON SECRET INDICTMENTS

Secret indictments returned by the recent Allen-co grand jury have been placed in the hands of Sheriff Baxter.

"There is no one in the city who was secretly indicted by the grand jury we can lay our hands on now," Baxter said Friday. "Those indicted are all out of the city. We do not expect to make an arrest before the first of the week."

WAGE BILL SENT TO COMMITTEE

Action Taken on House Measure By the Senate

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — The Schrimper minimum wage bill which passed the house last week, was today committed to the committee on manufacture and commerce in the senate. Senator James Reynolds, author of a similar bill introduced in senate who fought against reference to this committee, predicted that the bill would never come out of the committee to which it has now been assigned. Reynolds wanted the bill referred to the labor committee where his bill on the same subject has already had consideration.

Senator Reynolds referred to the bill as "an administration measure." Majority Leader Whittemore took exception to Reynolds calling the Schrimper bill an administration measure.

"I have your words for it that it is an administration measure," said Reynolds.

Whittemore in reply denied he had ever told Reynolds or any one else that the minimum wage bill was backed by the Republican administration.

MACCABEES INAUGURATE DRIVE FOR 200 MEMBERS

Lima Maccabees inaugurated their 200-new-members campaign Thursday evening at a joint rally of Lima and Banner Tents.

The largest assembly of Knights in a long time marked the occasion. Delegations were present from St. Mary's, Wapakoneta, and Chidleyville. Two principal speakers were U. H. Sharp, state deputy; C. A. Heinrich, of St. Mary's; William Axline and Thomas Gorman of Lima. The last, but not the least, feature of the affair was a fish fry. J. G. Waltz was chairman.

JOSEPH BUSHONG DIES

Word has been received here of Joseph Bushong, 67, former Lima resident, at his home in East Liberty. Besides the widow, he is survived by five children, of whom Charles Bushong resides in Lima. Other children are: Mrs. William Grubb and Mrs. Benjamin Cook, of Bellefontaine; Ora Bushong, Springfield and Mrs. Vera Crouse, Columbus. Funeral services and burial will be in East Liberty.

JITNEYS LICENSED

YOUNGSTOWN — Thirty-four of nearly 1,000 jitney bus operators here have taken out licenses under a city ordinance effective today, requiring a bond of $5,000. Others are running as "free" jitneys, accepting "contributions" from passengers in an attempt to evade the ordinance. Orders were issued to arrest these operators.

DUCKET CALLED; CASE OF ROSE CARBONE AND OTHERS ARE ASSIGNED FOR TRIAL

Judge F. C. Becker called the docket in common pleas court Thursday afternoon, when assignment of jury and court cases was made.

Trial of Mrs. Rosa Carbone, R. Fourth-st., charged with blackmail at Kilmont Naum, south side grocer, was set for Thursday, April 21. Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott announced he will try Mrs. Carbone first. She was jointly indicted with her husband, Rosa Carbone, for alleged blackmail.

Investigations of police will have an important bearing in the trial. Police declare the letter paper found in possession of the Carbone when their home was searched compares identically with that on which the black-hand letters were written to Naum.

Prosecutor Lippincott states that testimony will be introduced to show that the Carbone were making a strenuous effort to secure the grocery store owned by Naum, but that he would not sell it.

Other jury cases set for trial were the following: Lima Locomotive Works against the Nickel Plate Gravel Company, April 13; Paul Cole an infant, by John Cole, his next friend, against Peter Kohli, Columbus Grove, damages, April 14; W. L. Evans against Edna Pugh and others, April 12; W. L. Hoyer against Frank Frohase, April 11.

SUPOSED BURGLAR IS KILLED BY POLICEMAN

CINCINNATI — During an encounter with Patrolman Harry Hausman, an unidentified negro was killed by the officer at Elmwood Place, last night.

Mrs. Frank Burger and her 12-year-old son went into the cellar of their home to get coal, when the negro who had been hiding, blew out the light the boy was carrying, and seized him by the neck. Mrs. Burger and the boy screamed. Burger, ill in bed arose and hastened downstairs. He struck the negro on the head with a coffee cup. The man fled. Police searched for the assailant and later Hausman encountered the man, who was armed with a club. He attacked the officer, who drew a revolver and shot him twice. Elmwood Place police believe the dead man is the negro who has been terrorizing residents.

DAMAGE SUIT OF HAYES VS. W. O. IS TO BE RETIRED

Counsel for Nellie Hayes, administratrix of the estate of her mother, Della Hayes, announced Friday that re-trial of the $15,000 damage suit against the Western Ohio would be held the latter part of April or May. The jury which heard the trial this week disagreed Thursday and was discharged. Miss Hayes seeks damages for the alleged wrongful death of her mother when struck by a limited car near Beaverdam in April, 1919.

TRIBUTE TO WAR HEROES PLANNED

Graves of Americans Buried
Abroad to be Decorated

CALL FOR FUND IS ISSUED

Members of Legion Asked to Contribute Ten Cents

INDIANAPOLIS — (By Associated Press) — A call for all members of the American Legion to contribute ten cents to a Memorial Day fund for the decoration of American graves overseas was sent out today in a bulletin from national headquarters of the Legion here.

A majority of the bodies of Americans killed in the World War have been returned to America but "thousands of our comrades still sleep on foreign soil in compliance with the desire of relatives that they rest forever where they fell," the Legion bulletin says. "Few of the relatives of the fallen can go to Europe to lay a memorial wreath on the grave of the dear departed. As last year, the American Legion will perform this sacred service."

COMMITTEES FORMED
Committees have been formed in France and Great Britain, composed largely of Legion men. Posts in England, France, Belgium and Germany, cooperating with these committees, will see that every overseas grave of an American soldier is as fittingly decorated as if the fallen slept in the soil of the homeland, the announcement adds. Franklin D. Oiler, Philadelphia, past national commander of the Legion, heads the committee on Memorials Overseas for America, and assisting him are prominent men from twenty-one states of the Union.

INDIVIDUAL SCHEME
There will be instances in which relatives will wish to contribute expressly for a particular grave, wishing an individual scheme of decoration carried out, the bulletin says. Committees are charged with transmitting such requests to the memorial committees, thru national headquarters, that every desire of the bereaved families may be complied with.

Last Memorial Day the American Legion decorated 75,000 graves of Americans in Italy, Spain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany.

OHIO PUBLISHERS TO MEET AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS — Associated Press telegraph operators and Ohio newspaper publishers who are members of The Associated Press will hold their annual convention here Sunday and Monday, April 3 and 4.

The traffic men will meet Sunday and the editors will meet Monday to discuss "shop" and enjoy social programs.

Governor Harry L. Davis will entertain the editors at noon Monday with a buffet luncheon at the executive mansion. Robert F. Wolfe, publisher of the Columbus Dispatch and the Ohio State Journal, will entertain the editors with a dinner Monday evening at the Columbus Athletic Club.

DESERTION CHARGED IN STARK DIVORCE SUIT; TWO ANSWERS ARE FILED

Georgia Stark, in a suit for divorce from Frank J. Stark, Friday, filed objections to the absence of her spouse away from their home without her knowledge.

Mrs. Stark says he refused to tell her his whereabouts. He would leave her at home alone, she says, and that she sought shelter with relatives and friends.

She says she was forced to break up her home because of his actions. Afterward, she tried it again with him, the petition relates, only to find a repetition of events. He finally abandoned her, she charges.

The couple were married in Celina on January 26, 1916, and have no children. Mrs. Stark was Georgia Height before her marriage.

Mrs. Olive B. Davis, 758 W. Highland, filed an answer and cross-petition to the suit of her husband, Walter J. Davis, in court Friday. Mrs. Davis charges her husband would be gone for months at a time without advising her of his whereabouts and that when at home he would use vile, vulgar and profane language and threatened to do her personal violence.

She charges desertion and asks her husband's dower in her property, three tracts of land located in Baxter & Haller's addition, Lima, he barred. The couple were married in Delphos on January 12, 1905.

In his action for divorce, Davis charged she told him he had no right to hang around her home and said he was forced to leave.

RIVER COMMITTEE OF
C. C. GIVEN FACTS OF CITY'S SEWER SYSTEM

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Ottawa River Improvement committee were initiated into the mysteries of the city's sewage system, complete and contemplated, at a meeting in City Engineer Vaughn Miller's office Thursday night and as a result it is planned to have a representative from the department speak at a forum luncheon soon.

It was explained that sewer construction is the most important construction work the city has to do and that every effort is being made to construct the relief sewers now planned.

It is advised that sewage be diverted from the Ottawa river and be disposed of thru large trunk sewers and the sewerage system is planned so that this may be done. Plans for retaining walls for the river were also discussed.

TO FILE AMENDED PETITION
W. W. Sutton has been granted leave by the court to file an amended petition in the divorce case which his wife, Elizabeth Sutton, has pending in common pleas court against him. Mrs. Sutton resides at 400 Railroad-ave.

UNDERTAKERS ARE HOAX VICTIMS

April 1st Call Starts Five Ambulances For "Dead Man"

Five Lima undertakers were hoaxed Friday afternoon when called to take charge of an unknown man "found dead" in a box car at the rear of the home of William Hardesty, 226 S. 17th-st.

Chief of Police Roush was advised that a man had been found and immediately called Williams & Davis, undertakers, in the meantime, other parties called different undertakers and ambulances from the Williams & Davis establishment. Schulter's, Eckert's, Seifer's and the City Undertaking company, arrived about the same time.

Police arrived a short time before and directed the embalmers to the place where the body of the dead man was found.

A crowd estimated at over 100 curious persons was attracted by the clang of the ambulance bells.

They were lined up in front of the house, which caused many to believe that a disaster of some sort had wiped out several lives.

The undertakers raced for the box car, followed by the curious. As police held back the crowd the embalmers surged into the car.

There was a casket.

While the rest of the embalmers stood back, one of the number lifted the lid.

To their amazement, a man was in the box—apparently dead.

Put it was a wooden man.

Then it dawned upon them that this is April first.

POLICE BALL RECEIPTS
$1,590; TELL THANKS

Chief of Police O. J. Roush Friday expressed the thanks of the entire police department to those who assisted in making their fourth annual ball at Memorial Hall Tuesday night a success.

The amount taken in was $1,590.80. The money will be used for the purchase of new uniforms for patrolmen.

DRUNKENNESS CHARGED
Ben Althoff, 20, Lima, and John Sauers, 38, of 139 Harrison-ave, arrested shortly after noon Friday, are being detained at police headquarters charged with drunkenness. They were taken on E. Wayne-st.

Hundreds of New Suits and Top Coats Have Arrived for Saturday

The character of the models, the exclusive patternings, the rich fabrics, the graceful fit and drape, readily single them out from ordinary clothes.

There are so many things that enter into the quality, style, service and value factors of a garment that few men are sufficiently expert to buy with a thorough understanding.

First impressions are not always a safe guide and yet if the cut of the garment is distinctive, if the fabric is rich and characterful, if the pattern is refined and the fit precise, it usually denotes that care has been taken in the making. A presumption of quality is warranted.

Such garments as we offer you here present those attractions plus our guarantee that the garment is a sensible selection in quality, style, service and value.

AMERICAN ACE IS REWARDED

Presented Barograph From German Plane Shot Down

(By International News Service)
OAKLAND, Cal.—As a reminder of their victory over a German Hanover plane which they shot down in fact—the only enemy plane capable of being flown after a victory—and a plane from which most information of German air motors was learned, Captain Eddie Rickenbacker and Major Reed Chambers, foremost among American aces, recently added to their collection of war souvenirs two tokens presented them by the United States government.

To Captain Rickenbacker went the barograph, or altitude recorder of the ship, and to Major Chambers the machine gun. The barograph record of the last German flight of the famous Hanover plane is of historical interest because it gives an accurate record of the aerial flight.

On the barograph record are the German letters "FLZABT-D," which translated, mean a German airplane instrument, type D. The record is in meter.

The mute chronicle of the barograph of the flight shows that the Hanover took to the air at twenty minutes beyond the hour and climbed to an altitude of 1,500 meters, or about 5,000 feet. It was at this point that the big two-seated Hanover encountered the American ace of aces—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker.

According to Rickenbacker, the battle was an easy one, tho it was a case in which pilots and observers matched wits for position and firing angles. The German plane was brought down a full two miles within the American lines. Captain Rickenbacker disposed of the observer. Major Chambers taking care of the pilot.

The Hanover plane was brought back to the United States and has been exhibited in a number of places over the country.

Both Rickenbacker and Chambers were desirous of some remembrance of the battle, and Uncle Sam consented to give each of them a memento.

SEEK REBEL LEADER FUGITIVE IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY.—General F. Murguía, the fugitive rebel leader who was reported to have escaped from Mexico and entered the United States, is still in hiding in the State of Coahuila, according to information received by the War Department. He was seen with his brother near Fort San Vicente, between Boquilla and Villa Acuña, and the government will renew its efforts to effect his capture.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these timely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

OH DEAR! MY BACK!

Youngstown, Ohio.—"For several years I have suffered by my kidneys becoming congested and inactive and the uric acid spreading through my system, which resulted in my having rheumatism in my joints and limbs. I could not get rid of this condition until I began taking Dr. Pierce's An-uric Tablets and by the time I had taken one bottle I was completely rid of the uric acid in my system and the rheumatism left me entirely. I have not had a recurrence of this condition."—MRS. LOUISE CORLE, 347 Willis Ave.

KNOX WILL MEET LIMA PEOPLE TOMORROW AT PUBLIC DRUG STORE

Will Show How Simple It Is to Enjoy Good Health, He Declares

Beginning tomorrow, Saturday, April 2nd, I will be at the handsome new Public Drug Store, 142 North Main street, to meet those who call and explain how simple a matter it is to enjoy good health when the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels have been freed from poisons by such preparation as Syrola," said Mr. Knox today.

"It is the worst kind of folly to ignore signs of trouble in these organs," he continued. "Fermenting food always causes gas, belching and pains in the stomach and head. Poisons from undigested food clog the liver, causing bilious attacks, no energy and sleeplessness, and the kidneys show the effects through pains in the back and sides. Nature tries to get rid of a strike, and the bowels go on a strike, and when the intestines absorb the accumulated poisons auto-intoxication, or self-poisoning of the system takes place.

Prompt action at the first sign of such symptoms will enable you to avoid these tortures. By calling Syrola to your aid, this healing herb compound soon rids the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels of the poisons, paving the way for nature's healing action.

"Give Syrola a chance, and even though all other medicines have failed, it generally conquers these comparatively simple ailments. Isn't it common sense to expect robust health when Syrola has put the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, and the bowels in healthy, clean condition?"

"And I'm here to show you Lima folks that Syrola will do that for you—just as it has for people in Cincinnati, Knoxville, and other big centers. I will be at the Public Drug Store, 142 N. Main St. beginning tomorrow, Saturday, to explain all the bowels go on a strike, and the nature of Syrola to those who when the intestines absorb the ac-

'NEVERMORE' SAYS MYSTERY GIRL

No Fun Being Chased by Bunch of Women, She Opines

PRETTY TAMS ARE ALL GONE

Many Get Them and Are Highly Pleased

By SILKY MOLL.

So—the tam contest closes today. Silky Moll made her last rounds this afternoon, this time visiting the stores, and gave away the last coupons for the Priscilla Dean Tams. As a result of all this, Lima will have a lot of little tam-o-shanter girls running around that never wore tams before.

At every turn this afternoon, some enterprising lady or girl was lying in ambush for me. I can always recognize 'em by their newspapers, which they have rolled up tightly under their arms.

One poor lady in particular had an awful time. When I left the News Office and reached Main-st. I saw her on the corner, with her eagle eye fixed on every girl that came her way. I brushed right past her, across the street, and she just gave me a cursory glance and let it go at that.

GAVE HER CHANCE

Because she looked so determined to get a tam, I went past her again but she either failed to notice me or she forgot the words. Anyhow, she never as much as smiled at me. Then once more before I went back to the office, I gave her a chance, but nothing doing, altho I saw her accout another girl who was wearing a tam something like mine, only a different color. It's too bad she didn't get one, for she was observant but at the wrong time.

On Thursday afternoon I was so much more conspicuous, because none of the tams were out yet, so everyone nailed me right at the start. This afternoon, however, there were lots of them down-town and it was more fun. I wandered into the stores, Greggs, Carter's, The Daisel Co., Basingers and Feldman's. In the Leader Store, where I visited the millinery department, there were scads of ladies and four of 'em nailed me right away. "I didn't stay there long, for if I had, the coupons wouldn't have lasted a minute longer."

The Public Drug Store also housed a few curious and one of them was successful. Most of the dear ladies, however, got too excited or something, that they mutter something under their breath and by the time they get it out, I'm gone, just like that.

The Priscilla Dean tams are just darling. Miss Dean, the originator, wear one in her new picture "Outside The Law" which opens Sunday at the Lyric.

"NEVER AGAIN FOR ME"

Far be it from me to complain, because I've really had as much fun out of this little stunt as the girls had had chasing me. But there are more pleasant things in this vale of tears than being pursued by a bunch of women. For weeks I'll probably do down town and look furtively at everyone who has a newspaper in her hand, waiting for someone to wave her paper in my face and yell at me that "You are the News Mystery Tam Girl."

If you didn't get a tam, I'm sorry. If you did get one, you're lucky and I'm mighty glad. But as a Mystery Girl, never again!

ASSEMBLYMEN AS LIMA GUESTS

House Members Entertained at Elks' Home

Members of the finance committee of the House of Representatives were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce at the first forum luncheon at the Elks club Friday noon.

"Politics is the art of government and the most difficult of arts," said Rupert Bagham, speaker of the House. "We must get a right conception of what good government is. We want a government that will throw about our boys and girls an intellectual and moral environment. We must first get a desire for good government and understand what it means to you. It makes no difference how high a sense of good citizenship we may have, if we keep it to ourselves it does not benefit others. The General Assembly is made up of the same kind of men that elected them. They are glad to get information from anyone," he said.

He was followed by H. M. Carpenter, chairman of the finance committee and C. C. Crabbe, author of the Crabbe prohibition measure.

John B. Maynard, clerk of the house and Sam Fletcher, assistant sergeant at arms, both from Lima, also spoke.

More than a hundred Lima business men and local women were present and entertained the legislators and their wives.

H. O. Bentley was toastmaster and turned the keys to Lima and Allen-co over to the legislators.

The party arrived in Lima at 11 o'clock and a tour of inspection of the Solar Refinery was made preceding the luncheon.

The party left for St. Marys and Celina at 2 o'clock where they were to inspect the reservoir. An appropriation has been asked to construct retaining walls.

The party is to return to Lima Friday night and spend the night at the Norval Hotel. They will leave for Sandusky Saturday morning, where the state fisheries will be inspected.

It was planned for the Senate finance committee to accompany the House committee, but the Senators being in session made this impossible.

LIMA HOUSE SOLD BY EPPLEY

Deal for Lima's Oldest and Historic Hotel Closed

E. C. Eppley, the western hotel king and owner of The Norval and

Lima House, confirmed today the reported sale of the Lima House made by The News, yesterday. "While the deal is not absolutely closed," said Eppley, "the new proprietor is in charge."

The purchaser is S. L. Lester, former proprietor of the Windsor-Clifton hotel in Chicago. Mr. Lester plans to greatly improve The Lima House and make it second to none in the country.

The English police force is practically the only one in the world that is not armed.

DEATH SUMMONS HEAD OF DELAWARE SCHOOLS

DELAWARE—William M. Vance, superintendent of schools, died here Wednesday. He had been connected with the Delaware schools for over ten years. Vance was an ex-president of the Ohio State Teachers' association and at the time of his death was a member of the state board of examiners. The funeral was Friday at Delaware and the burial will be Saturday, at 2:30, at Urbana.

CHARITY PATIENTS AT DETENTION HOSPITAL

COST $565 IN MARCH

Cost of meals, nursing and washing for charity patients at the detention hospital in March was $565.55, according to report made at the monthly meeting of the city board of health in the Mayor's office Thursday night.

Plumbing Inspector Charles Ashton was directed to enforce an order for the cleaning up of lavatories at the court house, given some time ago and not heeded.

The resignation of L. E. Lud as a member of the board was received.

HOLD HUNTER ON NEW CHARGE

Luther Hunter, negro chiropractor, was arrested by Sheriff Charles Baxter on a warrant from juvenile court, charging he contributed the delinquency of a young girl. Case of Hunter, charged with rape with consent, was investigated by the grand jury, but no indictment was returned.

"MEXICO TIRED OF REVOLUTIONS"

Jaim Prevails Under New Regime, War Secretary Says

MEXICO CITY — (By International News Service) — "There are not more than 100 men in all of the Republic in arms against the Government at this time."

This remarkable statement was made by General V. Serrano, Under Secretary of War, in an interview, General Serrano added:

"Despite assertions to the contrary the figures I give are accurate. The Government is not confronted by the problem of pacification, it is the first time in ten years. Neither under Madero nor General Huerta was the country as peaceful as it is now because during their regimes there were some parties, more or less important, who fought the Government, such as Zapata and Orozco."

"The peaceful state of the nation at this time, I believe, is due to the fact that the people of all classes are convinced that they have as strong and honest government which has not been obliged to resort to violence to put down insurrections. Perhaps this government may be charged with extreme benevolence, inasmuch as it has pardoned most of the men who have revolted, allowing them to enjoy their liberty after being routed and vanquished. This was done in order to demonstrate to them that the Government does not contemplate persecutions or reprisals."

This policy of amnesty explains why most of the former rebels are now devoting themselves to peaceful pursuits and the developing of their private enterprises instead of making war.

Those who spread the talk of a new revolution are merely trying to delude the people into believing that one is possible, but the facts have shown that the citizens are tired of revolutions, especially when they have no political or social purpose.

"The revolutionary talk is the labor of Mexicans abroad who dream of recuperating the high positions they held in former days and of again making huge fortunes, but it is nothing more than a dream."

"The Government and the War Department have adhered to a policy of communicating to the country all of its acts in connection with the campaigns against the handful of rebels now at large."

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS
GWENDA, THE AUTHOR

It was in Denver that Gwenda suddenly decided that she was unable to go on with the dance. Dancing as a steady diet and dancing as a delightful interlude were entirely different things. Success, the overwhelming, scarlet kind that her solos had met with from the start, was almost too easily achieved. There had not been any resistance on the part of the public. She had been roared to and welcomed with applause. There came the run. With writing, on the other hand, it was different. Eight times had all too impudent editors dared to send the great dancer's literary attempts back to her in as many different cities and with lamentably few explanations for their lack of appreciation each time. Terrible it was the first three times or so, but after that, well one could get used to handling, as the saying goes. In spite of the bitter disappointments connected with her break into the world of literature, Gwenda acknowledged to herself that it had its compensations. That was, of course, after receiving that pale blue check. Gwenda was purely feminine, all thru. As it eluded her, this bubble called Success, in her short story writing, the more she desired it the harder she strove to catch it. Her last and successful story was sent off in a perfect fever by its writer, and its acceptance caused her to come to several very definite conclusions about life, and her life in particular.

She had experienced everything possible, where dancing was concerned, and by the time she had seen the beautiful Pacific she would be more than ready to start east, as far east as New York, and start in with something really serious. Nearing a long career for her with his company, more especially as she had met with such success. Gwenda, however, was prepared to face any and all tussles for the sake of the ultimate end. She would do and dare infinitely more for the career which now to her seemed the ONLY one.

This sort of sober reflection, however, was a sleepless night, and so it was with great joy that she one day caught the first glimpse of San Francisco bay, and its evening sky, some four months after leaving New York. She felt that here, in this city of sunlight and hope, she would come to a decision that would be the turning point in her life. Great decisions were easier to make, after all, in the midst of great beauty.

SAFETY DIRECTOR QUITS JOB

Rumored That Service Director
Also Will Resign at Wapak

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — Giving no reasons other than that he desires to be relieved of duties, Safety Director, Francis Heinisch, tendered resignation to Mayor E. E. Newcomer, who has not made another appointment yet.

There is an unconfirmed report that Service Director Roland Rogers is also soon to retire, for the reason that the duties of the position have become too greatly with his service in connection with the management of a dry goods store here, with his father, W. S. Rogers.

Night policeman Fred Houtz was accosted by man and wife on streets here Thursday night and asked for his key in the city jail to sleep. He took them to a hotel where, free supper and board was given them. Many men, due to employment, have been asking for lodging, but this was the first case where a woman was applicant for permission to sleep in the jail.

Plaintiff avers that one of the heirs, Isabelle Sunderland Peterson, of Wapakoneta, has had possession of the property to the exclusion of the plaintiff and other heirs, since the death of William C. Young.

Ralph Heller, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Heller here, was one of three students at Wittenberg College, Springfield, who made perfect grades during last semester's work. He also contributed to victory of Philo-sophian society in debate on Irish Independence with Excel society.

Trial of E. A. Brennenman, a member of a sales force selling "Moxine," advertised as a hog remedy, was set for April 15 in Celina. He was released on $500 bond. He is charged in affidavit filed by L. W. Stewart, representative of state food and drug department, with advertising the remedy as a cure for a certain hog disease.

KERR IS CAPTAIN

Succeeds Harry Horner as Head of Lima Cavalry Troop

Kenneth Kerr, First Lieutenant of Troop B, the Lima unit of the First Ohio Cavalry was notified Friday of his appointment as Captain of the troop, succeeding Captain Harry Horner, who resigned to become Assistant Adjutant General of Ohio. Captain Kerr rose from the ranks to his present position, having enlisted as a private.

The appointment of Fred B. Wallace, at the head of the gymnasium department of Central High school as First Lieutenant and Glenn O. Drury civil engineer, as Second Lieutenant was also announced Friday.

The cavalry and infantry organizations of Lima are uniting in an effort to bring about the building of an armory in this city.

The Price That Pays

Whatever you buy, you can nearly always find something that looks "just as good" at a lower price. Sometimes the price tempts you to forget the quality; and that's dangerous to economy.

A good thing at a fair price pays the buyer; just remember that when you're attracted by a low price.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes cost more than some clothes; but they're worth all they cost. We want our former friends to remember it.

ADMITS MURDER, BUT DOUBTED

Cleveland Man Confesses Killing
Parma School Teachers

BELIEVED MENTAL DEFECTIVE

Story Called Fiction by Members of His Family

CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press) — Police today were investigating the story of a man who was arrested yesterday and who, according to the police, said he had murdered Mabel Foote and Louise Wolf, Parma school teachers, several weeks ago. Although the prisoner supplied details of the killing, police were not inclined to place much credence in his story, believing him a mental defective.

ATTACK DESCRIBED

The man, upon being taken to Parma late yesterday pointed out to the officers where the teachers had been slain. He described how he approached the two women. When one of them became frightened he attacked the second, police say he confessed. The first then returned and hit him over the head with a club. He renewed his attack on the second teacher, he is alleged to have confessed after the first had fallen unconscious to the ground.

The man stuck to his story throughout several hours' questioning, according to the police, but talked incoherently of details which he had given precisely a short time previously, when the conversation was changed.

STORY CALLED FICTION

Members of the suspect's family characterized his story as fiction. They declared his only knowledge of the murders came from reading or discussing them, and so far as they knew, he was not missing on the day of the murder. They also declare that a scar on his head which he says was caused by the teacher's blow, was one which he has carried several years.

The man is held in connection with an assault on Mrs. Sophia Wolf, who was attacked in her home Tuesday afternoon. She will be asked today to identify the prisoner. Mrs. Wolf and Louise Wolf, the murdered teacher, are not related. County Sheriff Stannard and Detective Shibley were on their way home from Louisville, Ky., today after an unsuccessful effort to find the murderer of the two teachers in Kentucky, returning empty-handed.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks to our kind friends and neighbors for their sympathy and assistance during the death of our beloved infant son, also for the automobiles that were donated and the beautiful flowers, also Rev. Herchey and wife for their consoling words, and the singers for the beautiful songs.

Mr. and Mrs. William Boyed.

Member O. N. U. Fraternity

ADA — (Special) — Judge Edward Shiloh Matthias, associate justice of the Ohio supreme court, will be initiated by Marshall Senate of the Delta Theta Phi law fraternity on Saturday evening, April 16 at 8 o'clock.

A big time is planned for the ceremonies attending the initiation of Judge Matthias. A banquet will be given by Marshall Senate, at the Senate Home. Judge Matthias' participation in the exercises will be the occasion for a grand celebration, to which have been invited the members of the Ohio supreme court, Governor Harry L. Davis and all alumnae of the law college. Judge Matthias is an Elk, Mason and Knight of Pythias.

MAYOR ISSUES ORDER AGAINST LITTERING OF STREETS WITH EARTH

Mayor F. A. Burkhardt has ordered the police to put an end to teamsters littering streets in the west end of the city with dirt from their wagons.

"Baxter-st. looks like a muddy country road," the mayor said Friday. "I have had numerous complaints from property owners along the street who complain that teamsters overload their wagons, with the result that part of their load is deposited on the pavements."

Are You Getting Your Money's Worth?

EARLY in January, without restraint or regard for former cost, we struck rock bottom in our first revision of prices. Our sales for January this year almost doubled our sales for January last year. This gratifying result is conclusive proof that our policy is right, our patrons are appreciative, further proof that our merchandise and lower prices are most attractive.

Patrons of our stores are saving thousands of dollars on their purchases of DRY GOODS, SHOES, CLOTHING AND READY-TO-WEAR APPAREL. Our constant endeavor and greatest purpose is to maintain the now prevailing lower prices, and we are succeeding. Our buyers are constantly in the markets taking advantage of every price concession. These tremendous savings are in turn passed on to our patrons through our 312 Retail Department Stores. With this kind of an organization working for you — with this excellent service brought almost to your door — you can not, with fairness to yourself and the family purse, disregard this opportunity to supply your needs and share in these substantial savings.

planets are opposed to each other from the fifth and eleventh signs of the zodiac, the influence of which is said to dominate over matters of scandal and public notoriety; also premature fame.

"In Guy Stillman's horoscope the concrete picture presented by a thorough analysis of the position of the planets indicates a life full of adventure and of ups and downs, particularly in foreign countries, where he is likely to spend a great deal of his time in the company of his mother."

MAY BE MILLIONAIRE

"In this case the Sun is conjunct Venus and in the sign of Scorpio, the eighth of the zodiacal family. He may be under a cloud himself, his health forces may decline, which will probably terminate his life span while at the same time little baby Guy, then a grown boy, stands a very good chance to become a millionaire. The misfortune of one will become the gain of the other."

"Should fate so decree that Guy Stillman overcomes his adverse star at this time, later in the year 1931 we find a series of more fortunate aspects under the Sun conjunct Mercury and Sextile Mars, which as they occur from Scorpio and Sagittarius strongly tend to incline toward a decision being taken to have him sent to a military or naval academy. This distinction, making many friends and life-long associations."

WILL BE ROMANTIC

"While in spite of all these occurrences, there will still remain the heavy pall of gloom because of the unkindness of Uranus and Saturn in the chart at birth. The parents will remain for all times at daggers drawn."

"The conjunction of the Sun and Venus in the zodiacal sign of Scorpio, both of these in close association with Jupiter, holds forth the promise of a great many conquests in the camp of the opposite sex, many love affairs and romances, long and lasting with a tragic and dramatic aspect to them."

WILL BE A VICTORY

"A great deal of money which he will spend on pleasures and the real entertainment of both of both sexes. The planet of fortune Jupiter forms two powerful aspects with the combination Sun-Venus, and this alone is a guarantee that, no matter what might be the present changes of state he will always be well provided with cash. Upon the whole consideration I do not hesitate to predict a victory for Guy Stillman and his mother."

"Guy Stillman's unconscious prognostic, Jay Ward Leeds, has at this time a series of unfortunate influences in operation. From Venus and Leo, the eleventh and fifth signs of the zodiac, are found the opposition of the moon to Neptune and Uranus to Saturn. This double aspect is a drain upon the life forces of both mother and child. It could be a constant anxiety to the parents and surroundings from the health point of view, being several times on the verge of passing out of this life, were it not for the fortunate influences indicated by a sextile of Mars in Scorpio to the Sun in Virgo and also to the good offices of Venus conjunct Mercury.

SHE AVERS HUNGER STRIKE IS ENDED

Miss E. Krages.

We frequently read in the newspapers that in the famous capitals of the world noted personages are conducting hunger strikes. They are usually the subject of much discussion.

Did you ever stop to consider that right here in Lima there are hundreds of people conducting hunger strikes this very hour?

In the case of the noted personages, the strikes are self-willed. In the case of the local people they are not self-willed. They are forced to fast and diet because their stomachs are out of order. Peppen has ended many a hunger strike and enabled the worst dyspeptics to eat what they desire without being compelled to suffer afterwards with sour stomach, stuffiness, nausea, dizziness, headaches and other ills that arise from fermentation of food.

Not only in this city, but in other cities, Peppen is ending hunger strikes. Inasmuch as hundreds of statements have been published from people who live in this city, it is interesting to note what is being said about Peppen elsewhere

The statement of Miss E. Krages, Clark's Lane, Louisville, Ky., is an example of the enthusiasm displayed by people of the metropolis of the Blue Grass State. Miss Krages says:

"I had stomach trouble for years. I suffered considerably from gas on my stomach and pains, especially if I ate greasy meats or vegetables, candies and other sweets. I had to deny myself, but even limiting my food did not restore my stomach to a good condition."

"I was not enjoying my meals at all at the time I began taking Peppen. Peppen, however, relieved my stomach trouble. My appetite has increased and I can eat sweets, candy, cake or anything I want, without having to suffer for it afterwards."

"I am delighted that I can enjoy my meals. I heartily recommend Peppen."

Every other man or woman at fifty, forty, even thirty-five, feels old. Some of them look it, a few of them confess it. "I don't feel well," they say. "Seems as if my stomach were going back on me. I am getting along, you know, nearly forty."

They are wearing out because their stomachs are wearing out, because their digestive apparatus is giving way under the terrible strain they lay upon it. Men and women who have thought they were run down forever have wound themselves up and are running along smoothly. They took Peppen. They found in Peppen a tonic that goes right to the spot and gives relief.

Peppen is sold by all first-class drug stores everywhere. It is being specially introduced at Charles M. Hunter's Drug Stores in Lima, Ohio. Adv.

refinement, a highly sensitive nature, with strong emotional bias. In this map it is easy to conclude that his load of cosmic debts which, according to Hindu philosophy he brought with him in this life, will place a strain frequently upon his spiritual resources.

"He may be a precocious poet, an artist and musician, an observer and a critic. His solace, his only means to achieve fame and greatness will be thru the constant application of his mind to intellectual pursuits and works of research."

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsett's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsett's at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsett's. Adv.

To Prevent Old Age Coming Too Soon!

Toxins (poisons) in the blood are thrown out by the kidneys. The kidneys act as filters for such poisons. If you wish to prevent old age coming too soon and increase your chances for a long life, you should drink plenty of pure water and take a little "Anurio," says the famous Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

When suffering from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here and there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, the simple way to overcome these disorders is merely to obtain a little "Anurio" from the nearest druggist and you will quickly notice the grand results. You will find it more potent than lithia—Adv.

and upward the present scandal which has tarnished his possibilities for an early start will vanish entirely."

4-MEN HEAR MUSICAL PROGRAM AND ADDRESS

Thursday, evening, at 6:30, the 4-men assembled at the Y. M. C. A. and indulged in a chicken feast.

After the luncheon general singing, led by Biddle, and special musical program by Prof. Rothelsteger, Mr. Must and Merrill Johnson, Dr. Victor Parent spoke with much force on social hygiene, giving such interesting and startling facts as to conditions in Lima.

The secretary reported 104 members and charter was closed. Eighty present at the luncheon. The April meet will be the closing one for this season.

A five-reel motion picture is approximately 5,000 feet long.

INGROWN NAIL

Toe Nail Turns Out Itself If You Toughen Skin

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail that it cannot penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions—Adv.

COAL? ASK THE CONSUMERS ABOUT IT CAUTION BEATS REGRET

If present tendencies in the production and transportation of coal are not speedily changed, the American people within a few months will be confronted with the most serious danger of a coal famine ever known. The production and transportation of bituminous coal have been rapidly declining, and within recent weeks have reached the lowest level for years, except during the coal strike in November and December, 1919.

ELECTRIC TRAINS Gives Tanlac Credit For Splendid Health

Bluffton People See Prospect of Better Service

BLUFFTON — Plans for running electric trains over the Northern Ohio Railroad, recently acquired by the Akron, Canton & Youngstown company, were disclosed when the first electric train carrying officials passed thru here. Comprising the official party were: H. B. Stewart, president; J. C. Williams, vice president and general manager; J. M. Hood, superintendent; A. C. Garrett, trainmaster; S. J. Will, general freight and passenger agent; H. F. Greve, master mechanic; A. L. Graner, auditor; S. S. Lenter, chief engineer; W. H. McVau, general roadmaster; H. R. Ayers and F. A. Sieberling, directors.

It is estimated that these trains will cut off four and a half hours in running time in making the trip from Delphos to Akron. At present, by steam train, the 170 miles is covered in nine and a half hours. The electric train made the trip in five hours. The road bed is being repaired and everything made ready for the installation of the new service.

Carl Rohlf, a Bluffton resident, died at Robinson hospital in Toledo, Thursday, from stomach trouble. Deceased was general manager of the Cape Erie Packing & Cold Storage Co. He is survived by his father, H. Rohlf and a sister, Miss Louise Rohlf; one son, Ralph and three daughters, Margaret, Virginia and Nancy.

The Bluffton College Men's Glee club, now on a tour of Ohio, will give their home concert at the high school auditorium Tuesday night.

MAY HOLD ORATORICAL CONTEST AT DELPHOS

VAN WERT—High school principal Augustus Karna has been notified by school authorities at Lafayette that the Northwestern Ohio Oratorical contest will not be held there this year. The last contest was held in 1919 when Lafayette won first place and the right to be the next host. The money was called off last year on the claim that Lafayette could not accommodate the visitors. As Delphos won second place in the 1919 meet, the contest will be held there if plans can be perfected in time.

Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lettuce and apples, while metallic iron is just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalizes worn-out, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. At all drug stores. "I used to think all the Tanlac testimonials were exaggerated, but I have felt thankful a thousand times I ever believed in it strong enough to give the medicine a trial," said T. J. Parker, well-known salesman for Gately's Clothing Store, residing at 4246 Juneau St., Seattle, Wash. "Several years ago I commenced having periodic spells of sickness and a few months ago I had an attack that I thought would finish me. When I did finally get up, I was scarcely able to go. I had no appetite and what little I forced myself to eat caused so much gas in my stomach I could hardly get my breath. "At night I was often so bloated I couldn't breathe while lying down and just had to sit up and struggle for air. At times I had cramps so bad I could hardly endure it. "My liver was sluggish and sometimes I got so dizzy I would nearly fall. I felt tired and miserable all the time, couldn't even sleep, and for days at a time I wasn't able to go to work. "Well, a friend of mine finally got me to try Tanlac, and it certainly has done a good job for me. My appetite is fine now and altho I am eating just anything I want and as much as I please, my stomach never gives me the least trouble. I have picked up in weight, my strength has come back to me, and I am now enjoying the best of health. "All the men at the store know Tanlac put me back on my feet, and I am glad to give this statement for what it may be worth to others." Adv.

WINS FIGHT FOR PARSONAGE

Van Wert Pastor Resigns, But Holds Church Property

VAN WERT—Settlement out of court was effected Thursday in the case of the First Baptist church against the Rev. Andrew Turkington, involving his right to live in the parsonage and claim to be pastor of the church. Altho the terms of the agreement were kept secret, in the interests of the church, it is believed to be a victory for Turkington inasmuch as he was permitted the right of resignation as pastor and is to continue to reside in the parsonage. The dispute between Turkington and the dissenting faction headed by the trustees began last spring over a series of events, including the Interchurch World movement, the second coming of Christ from a pre-millennial viewpoint and a version of funds from the local community. Feeling grew bitter that the church door was boarded up for a time during the summer and then separate services were held by the two factions. The fall the trustees filed an injunction to oust Turkington from the parsonage and he filed a cross petition preventing such action. Turkington finally withdrew his petition and the suit was again pressed. Turkington filed a statement clarifying his claims to be legal as the case was to have come to trial Wednesday had not a compromise been arranged.

To Round Out Bony Shoulder Blades

How to Put On Firm Flesh In the Places Where You Need It

Many women who possess an otherwise attractive figure are prevented from looking their best in spring and summer clothes simply because of ugly hollows or bony shoulders that always seem to show no matter how you try to hide them. In such cases this embarrassing thinness is often due to the tissues having become atrophied through the lack of a nourishing, flesh-building substance called vitamins, which is lost from many raw foods in the heat of the cooking. But once you supply these needed vitamins by taking a little Vitamon, with each meal, a most astonishing change usually quickly takes place. The best way to satisfy yourself and to prove exactly what VITAMON will do for your health and appearance is to make this simple test: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take Vitamon—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking Vitamon regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. It is not only a question of how much better you look and feel, or what your friends say and think—the scales and tape measure will tell their own story. Vitamon positively will put on firm flesh and increase energy when taken with every meal, but should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having their weight increased to normal. Results are absolutely guaranteed or money refunded. Your own druggist has VITAMON in stock or can quickly procure it for you. Be sure to remember the name VITAMON—there is nothing else like it.—Adv.

UNION OF BALKANS IS PROPOSED

Negotiations Going on Between Bulgaria and Serbia

By NEWTON C. PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PANIS—With a view to setting up the "United States of the Balkans," discreet conversations have been opened between Belgrade and Sofia, according to information received in dipomatic circles here.

Bulgaria is credited with originating the proposal which is said to be finding many supporters in the new kingdom of Yugo-Slavia.

The plan is to unite all the Southern Slavs, the Bulgars and the Serbs,
Croats and Slovenes forming the new Yugo-Slavian monarchy in a loose confederation which would ultimately grow stronger and perhaps draw to it the kingdom of Rumania.

The new Bulgarian Government is said to be promoting the plan as a guarantee against future wars with Serbia and at the same time as assurance against trouble with Greece or Rumania. The scheme made headway with difficulty at Belgrade because of the intense hatred between the two countries engendered by the recent war, but at last has won some support.

The artificiality of the new kingdom of Yugo-Slavia has caused the Belgrade government much trouble.
Croatia has a strong separate movement and Belgrade has great difficulty in making herself respected at Zagreb. The Serbian advocates of the confederation believe such a move for the union of all Southern Slavs would remove many of the difficulties now facing Belgrade.

Proponents of the confederation have approached Allied representatives to learn whether any objection would come from the big powers.
They argue that the creation of such a union would make it impossible for the Balkans to become the source of another World War.

To Service Director McClain

DEAR MAC: Will Mahat be repaired this summer or will I be forced to bump over it another year?

LIMA BEANE.

To Jay Walkers

HOW scores of you escape being killed is a mystery to me. Traffic laws are utterly disregarded and you take your lives in your hands and parade around in the streets much as people are wont to do in parks.

Automobile drivers are no worse here than in other cities; in fact, I believe they necessarily must be more careful to keep from running down many of you each day. Think it over. It may take a little more time to cross a street properly, but it is cheap accident insurance.

LIMA BEANE.

To Young Women

FRIENDS. Many of you at this time are considering an occupation. Allow me to suggest the nursing profession as one of the best openings for young women today.

I have made extensive investigation of this matter. I have found that there is a scarcity of nurses at my two big hospitals, St. Rita's and City, as well as a lack of students in the training classes.

Girls who enter this work have many opportunities. They have pleasant surroundings, pay while learning as well as food and lodging and at the end of the three-year course are equipped to earn money few women can command in any field and at the same time perform one of the greatest services to mankind.

My two hospitals will be glad to see young women who are interested in this profession. It is not necessary that applicants at either institution belong to any certain church. Creed does not count in this work. I hope to see a large number enter training this Spring.

LIMA BEANE.

To Home Seekers

DEAR FRIENDS: Many times I have advised you to buy or build a home in Lima. I have told you that rental property is scarce and will become scarcer as time goes on and more people come to my city, as they will in a short time.

Yesterday I saw something in The Lima News, my favorite paper, some of you may have overlooked which should convince you that I have been right in my advice. A reward of $10 was offered by a man hunting a house for information which would lead to his renting a home. I noted that there wasn't a house listed for rent and am informed by real estate men that they have nothing to offer.

Why should you delay buying when you can do so with a very small initial payment and then pay for your home at a rate lower than rent costs you?

LIMA BEANE.

To Jokers

TODAY you had your fun—fun which usually accompanies the first of April. I was impressed by the fact, however, that you adhered to the sensible practice of making your jokes harmless. So far I have heard of no practical ones which caused injury or damage to anyone. For this I thank you. It probably is all right to have some amusement on this day with your friends so long as it does not cause them any trouble, but the practical joker is a dangerous person.

LIMA BEANE.

To Base Ball Fans

FELLOW ROOTERS: I too have been wondering if my city is to be the scene of base ball activities during the coming season. I am becoming really concerned, the same as you are, over the possibility of being forced to forego the pleasure of visiting Murphy-st park occasionally, with a bag of peanuts in one hand and a pop bottle in the other and a voice keyed up to the right pitch to root for the home team.

Some wag has said that man born of woman is of but few days and full of fleeting notions, but the desire for base ball is so thoroughly ingrained in the average citizen that it cannot well be denied. If there's a chance for a Lima team, count me in on the support plan. I'm as strong for it as Jimmie Morton ever was and heaven knows he's about the hardest hit base ball devotee in Lima.

LIMA BEANE.

To Home Owners

FRIENDS: It is easy for me to see what is going to keep Lima from having a huge out-of-work colony, should our larger industries be forced to close down from lack of orders. Driving over town today I counted 52 different homes where new porches, repairs, painting, renovating and the like were under way. For five years, owners of homes have refused to make repairs, first, because of the cost, and secondly, because it was hard to get carpenters, bricklayers, plasterers, painters, decorators. Now they are brightening up these homes and automatically supplying work to many who want it. There are 100 house jobs awaiting men in Lima, but not at $4 a day. Common labor can now be had at 25 to 30 cents an hour, and house labor must also come down to the level where the home-owner will again have a handy man about the place.

LIMA BEANE.

To Isaac Walton

MY DEAR IKE: This is the "open season" for "tall" stories concerning big catches of fish. As you devotees of the gentle art of Walton dig around in the spare room or in the attic, getting your fishing tackle together, won't you kindly determine to curb your penchant for telling about the big ones that got away, after you get into action along the streams and on the lakes?

The world is weary of bombast; no longer does the average citizen have to be told when a thing is or isn't true. And fish stories are in a category all by themselves. No matter how truthful the yarn may be, nobody believes it anyway. So please refrain, boys.

LIMA BEANE.

To E. F. Stallings

DEAR SIR: I have been interested in announcements made from time to time in the columns of The Lima News concerning the activities of the Boy Scouts in my city, which indicate that results of the desired kind are being attained.

The object of the Boy Scout movement is to keep the boys physically fit, mentally awake and morally straight. No better program could be devised for the future welfare of America and you have my best wishes for the continued success of your efforts.

LIMA BEANE.

To A. W. Wheatley

MY DEAR "GENERAL": I want you to know that I'm with you strong for the success of the Community Fund drive your army of 200 is about to launch, for a $30,000 fund, in aid of the work of my local charitable and benevolent organizations.

I feel certain that under the stimulus of your counsel and advice and encouragement as the commander in chief of the attacking forces that any sentiment which may exist that is not in accord with the welfare plan will be forced to capitulate quickly.

LIMA BEANE.

To the Lions

BOYS: I am certainly gratified to note that you have caught the infection and realize the value of more conventions for Lima. I would be pleased to have your roarin' bunch from all over Ohio meet and get acquainted under the benign hospitality of my good people in Lima.

Lima is admirably located as a convention city and that you succeed in inducing your fellow Lions to invade my city from all over Ohio is my ardent wish. Let 'em roar!

LIMA BEANE.

To County Commissioners

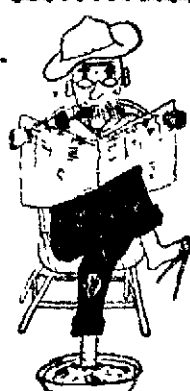

DEAR BOYS: I am informed that altho there has been erected on the county infirmary farm a large shed, designed to afford cover and protection for county road rollers, scrapers and other implements, from the elements, that the machinery is still standing out in the open, unprotected and naturally disintegrating.

Parties who have occasion to use the highways of the county, with autos or other means of travel, are complaining bitterly that you have not heretofore taken advantage of excellent weather conditions to get this same machinery at work on the roads.

I suggested to them that perhaps you haven't the money necessary for the prosecution of work of that character, but they counter with a query as to what has become of the road repair money made available from the last tax collection. You'd better get busy, boys, with that road machinery, or get it under cover at least and do some explaining.

OLD SCISSORS SAYS:

The race may not always be to the swift, but it is about ninety-nine times out of a hundred.

We have just seen the picture of another society beauty who spent the greater part of the winter at Palm Beach. We'll say anybody who went south this year to spend any part of the winter was stung.

A Toronto man saved a train disaster by waving a red sock. He is believed to be the only man in the world who wears red ones and it seems like an act of Providence that he should be there at the time.

A mass meeting of thieves, to demand a share in the new regime in Russia and a chance for a fresh start, was recently held, it is reported, at Rosoff-on-the-Don. Speeches were made by leading thieves, outlining the difficulties and beseeching the help of the community.

This appears to us to be a particularly pathetic situation, and it is a distinctly sad commentary upon conditions in the Trotsky community. It proves more than ever the sad physical condition of the country. When the burglars, yeggs, porch-climbers, stick-ups, second-story workers and dips can't make a living, what chance has any one else?

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS—BY DR. WM. BRADY

A TALK TO DRUGGISTS

Customers sometimes suspect that a druggist is making a tremendous profit when he dispenses a few ounces of medicine prescribed by a doctor. Sometimes patients ask the doctor to inform them how much the druggist will charge for medicine he has prescribed, and if he is a good doctor he generally cannot tell, but bids the patient to trust to the druggist's honesty to set a fair price maximum as he is entrusting his very life to the druggist's accuracy and honesty in compounding the prescription. The public little realizes how great a loss the druggist sustains in the stock he places upon his shelves and keeps there until it has spoiled or gone out of fashion—or we have fashions in prescribing, just as they do in the millinery business. And owing to the custom of relegating the prescription counter to an inconspicuous place in the store, the public scarcely considers the druggist's service in compounding or preparing medicine on prescription, a professional service involving the exercise of skill acquired thru special schooling. This perhaps explains why people assume the druggist makes a huge profit—they allow nothing for his professional skill.

Almost on a par with the mother-in-law idea nowadays is another of the joke-much, namely that one can secretly find the prescription department, for the soda fountain, cigar stand, jewelry counter and haberdashery.

For that the doctors, or a certain class of doctors, who have time to maintain a stock of medicines and to their own dispensing, may be in part to blame. Yet the better doctors everywhere are rather less commercial and more particular about titting the medicine to the patient's present requirements instead of trying to fit the patient's troubles to the medicines kept for wholesale dispensing. And there are other reasons than mere commercialism that force some good doctors to dispense more or less medicine. The proprietor of a leading drug store, a public-spirited citizen, was asked by some club women to give his views on the status of whiskey in medicine. "Whisky," he replied, with the smile which in one of his business assets, "That's one thing I never prescribe." And when the doctor's wife later retailed this morsel to her husband, who had just finished a fight to save the life of a boy who had been poisoned by acetanilide in the "cold cure" put up, recommended and prescribed by that druggist, "absolutely harmless" too, the doctor's comment was an English version of a well known French phrase, "Th' elle ysayer."

The dispensing doctor would have to be angelic indeed never to fall back on a pea-green stove top when the Nile-green stomachic suddenly ran out. But a druggist purporting to be capable of telling customers what ails them and what medicine is good for it is simply exploiting ignorance and betraying his profession as well.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

FRIENDS

These friends o' mine. I count them o'er

To find the things I love them for

Here's one who brings me merry smiles

And memories of the by-gone whiles

The old glad days of long ago

When youth's delights were ours to know

We shared the very-self same joys

In that departed land of boys

Studied the self-same books and knew

The orchard where the apples grew

No gold could change, no time could dim

The lustre of my love for him.

I cannot find that pomp and fame.

Are needful to these friends I claim.

Their love is built on many tears.

Sometimes in joy, sometimes in tears.

Here is a friendship which was made

When sorrow at my door was laid.

YOUR NAME

(BY PHILIP FRANCES HOWLAND VARIATIONS — Herrick, Erick, RACIAL ORIGIN — English, also Norse.

SOURCE — A given name. These family names all are found on the given name of Erick, or Eric, which was more of an Anglo-Saxon and a Norse name, than a Norman one, tho it has been by no means extinct in England at any time subsequent to the Norman invasion. Indeed, it was one of the comparatively few Anglo-Saxon given names which achieved some popularity from the first, even among the Norman conquerors.

There is a very old line of Ericks and Herricks among the British nobility, and their tradition is that they take their name from Eric the Forester, the Anglo-Saxon chieftain, who recruited the forces of the defenders who met William the Conqueror at Hastings. However this may be, it does not follow that all Herricks and Ericks trace back to a single progenitor. The given name was quite common in England, and still more so in Scandinavian lands, and it would not be reasonable to assume that family names did not develop from it in many instances in different sections of various countries and without any close blood ties between the original founders of the different families.

Lima Now Has Largest Music Store In State

The reason for the large growth and success of this enterprising concern, is that they have always sold the same pianos little after other dealers.

When Story & Clark pianos were selling from $300.00 to $350.00, The Maus Piano Company sold the same pianos at $175.00 and $190.00. When Packard pianos were selling in this territory for $350.00 and $400.00, they sold them at $190.00 and $225.00.

Robert M. Cable pianos are and have been sold at $300.00 and $350.00 and their players $550.00 to $600.00; while The Maus Piano Company have sold and are selling them at $175.00 to $225.00 and their player pianos at $390.00 to $425.00.

When other dealers were asking $700.00 to $750.00 for Chickering Grand Pianos, The Maus Piano Company sold them at $450.00 and $500.00. Today The Maus Piano Co. are selling GULBRANSEN PLAYER PIANOS $100.00 lower than any other dealer in the State.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is not a lucky day. The stars indicate that this month will be a good one for business, but it is not best to undertake a new venture just at this time. Speculation is not likely to bring success under this rule of the stars.

Those interested in real estate will find this rule a lucky one, but they should avoid signing contracts or leases until later.

It is predicted that editors and writers will meet with prosperity in the near future.

Changes in the ownership of well-known newspapers and magazines are indicated.

Persons whose birthday this is, should beware of accidents during the coming year. They may expect profits from their work, tho not sensationally large ones.

Children born today may be headless and daring, and will easily succeed only if trained to be more thoughtful.

BILLIE BURKE IS WHOLE SHOW, AS USUAL

Others in Cast of "The Education of Elizabeth" Are Merely Her Foils

"Adam and Eva" Demands Share of Attention as Coming Event—Directory

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
MISS Billie Burke's latest picture, "The Education of Elizabeth," which is the funniest of comedy-dramas, seemed to please the audience of which it was one Thursday.

The production is typical of its star, in that the limelight plays constantly upon the fair and now be-bowed young lady. When her name is flashed on the screen it is in letters of the type accorded other members of the cast. The women in the cast are the usual cowed ladies which figure in a Burke picture. Edith Shyne, who is permitted a bit of distinctiveness, is also but a foil, her part being one more piano for Billie to play on.

The story is a light one. A gentleman of bald pate and old family becomes enamored of a sweet little show girl—Miss Burke. The gentleman is a spinster sister, a high brow brother and a beautiful colonial home on the Hudson.

Realizing that his wife-to-be will never qualify before the cold stare of his family, without a little instruction in the what-to-dos and what-not-to-dos of society, he invites her to spend some time at the old homestead. Upon their arrival, however, he is suddenly called away, leaving Elizabeth to the reader's mercy of a sister who thinks the girl is perfectly terrible, and a brother who regards her in about the same light. But sister gets over it—and so does brother. So well, in fact, that he shaves off the alfalfa which before had hidden quite comely features, and falls in love with his brother's choice, by whom his feelings are reciprocated.

As Thomas, he of the bald pate, also experiences a change of heart while out in Texas, the ending is entirely satisfactory for all concerned. Miss Burke is as pretty as ever and as young and the supporting cast do as good as they can with the opportunities afforded them.

If you like Miss Burke generally, you will admire her immensely in this little production, "The Education of Elizabeth." It is being featured today at the Faurot theatre.

Faurot—"Adam and Eva"

PLEASANT and welcome announcement to the lovers of comedy is the presentation in this city of F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest's "Adam and Eva," which is set for Saturday afternoon and night at the Faurot.

The brilliant cast which will interpret "Adam and Eva" here includes Miss Lois Bolton, the well known light comedienne, Mr. Coates Gwynne, Mr. Charles E. Bird, Mr. Charles Horn, Miss Rosemary Hilton, Mr. Frank H. Knight, Miss Helen Wesley, Mr. Fred C. Palmer, Miss Ramona Weaver, and Mr. Joseph Prosser. "Adam and Eva" offers a splendid opportunity for the entire company because the play has an unusual compact plot, natural, intelligent, witty dialogue, and pos-

PROTEST OR NO PROTEST WE WILL SHOW "THE TRUTH ABOUT HUSBAND'S"

"It certainly seems a pity that husbands and fathers should be held up to the ridicule shown in 'The Truth About Husband's' confined to the one particular man in the picture it would not be so bad. For instance: 'A male animal has learned the lesson of life before he becomes a husband, and always SOUTHERLY pays for the experience.' Such a statement can only come from one who has spent dissipated bachelorhood and thinks everyone else has done the same. To say that all men before marriage have entered into some illusion is not to be challenged. Why not change the title to 'The Truth About a Husband'?"

Yours truly,
FATHER.

To any such requests we would say, we will continue showing this drama that veers from gentleness to the tumult of a Roman orgy. Other pictures, too.

STEINER HOME IS OPENED TO MANY GUESTS

BY ROSEMARY CHRISTEN

Miss Julius Steiner is receiving an embankment of palms and flowers.

Friday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock. Clusters of love-lily flowers bearing a note of spring are being used in the effective adornment of the rooms and all appointments carry out a dainty combination of yellow and white.

Delightful music is being furnished by a popular trio seated in the drawing room and concealed from

After a period of rainy weather, the sunshine of Thursday was appreciated by a rosy number of music lovers who attended the annual Organ Day of the Woman's Music club at the First Baptist church.

The program was arranged by Mrs. P. R. Marshall and Miss R. Heffner and opened with "The Lost Chord" by Arthur Sullivan, sung by Mesdames J. R. Melly, J. E. Evans, F. E. Gooding, M. C. Light, L. R. Longworth, F. Callahan, Charles Black, Arthur Peitz, R. D. Kahle and Miss Maude Michael. This was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience who often ask why more choruses work is not done in the club when there are so many good voices available.

"Angelic Dreams" by Rubenstein was beautifully played by Mrs. Harry Macdonald.

Mrs. Harry Gayer, being out of voice, was unable to sing. Mrs. Arthur Peitz, one of the sometime members, who has recently returned to Lima, was prevailed upon to sing, giving one of the greatest of the Messiaid numbers, "He Was Despised." In her sweet, sympathetic, contralto voice.

"Jubilate Deo," by Silver, was the number given by Miss Violet Bradley, who but recently returned from studying the organ in Columbus. She played this joyful number most delightfully.

Miss Anna Cantwell having been called out of town unexpectedly, Miss Ray Heffner took her place, and by her skillful mastery of the organ delighted all by playing two favorites, "Oh That We Two Were Maying" and "Dreams."

The closing number was one suited to the after Lenten season, in that it was one of Oscar Wilde's exquisite fairy tales, "The Selfish Giant," given by Mrs. J. K. Bannister with wonderful musical arrangement by Liza Lehman, played by Mrs. Harry Macdonald, who made one fairly witness the transition from winter to spring in the garden of the "Selfish Giant," typifying the change of heart, causing the Giant to turn his garden into a play ground for the children, and in so doing to find Paradise.

Thursday dinner club enjoyed dinner at the Tucker home on W. Elm-st. Thursday with Mrs. J. W. Tucker as hostess. The table was most attractive with a centerpiece of yellow narcissus and at either side were placed yellow ruffled candles. All other appointments were of yellow.

Place cards bore the names of Mrs. Edward Hawisher, Mrs. Elmer Hey, Mrs. R. H. Cotner, Mrs. Edward Blum, Mrs. O. W. Miller, Mrs. W. H. Howell, Mrs. L. J. Davis, Mrs. Thomas Hoffman, Mrs. Alvin McCarty and the hostess.

Bridge was presented a entertainingment following dinner with Mrs. Edward Hawisher holding high score. Club will meet in a fortnight with Mrs. William Howell, W. Elm-st.

Mrs. Ortho McMillon, who before her recent marriage, was Miss Doris Young, was tendered a most delightful miscellaneous shower at her home on S. McCall-st. Thursday evening by a group of intimate friends. Cards were present as pastimes after which a dainty repast was served.

Guests included Misses Ruth Wells, Elizabeth Brennan, Jeanette Stolman, Edith Cunningham, Frieda Prosser, Abigail Sullivan, Lura Mae Gallispie, Clara Pett, Gertrude Roose, Margaret Graham, Martha Roby, Edith Lanchlin, Florence Price, Mildred Cati, Margaret McHaffey, Beatrice Sheppard, Annette Roby, Serilda Wood, Helen and Dorothy Hunt, Mrs. O. N. Long, Mrs. Amelia Schiewe and Mrs. Glen Webb.

About 60 couples enjoyed an attractive dinner dance given by members of the K. of C. lodge Thursday evening. Catering was done at the group of tables arranged in the dining room was a vase containing love-lily carnations and ferns and the only illumination was furnished by lighted pink candles. Following dinner the guests adjourned to the ball room where a delightful evening of dancing ensued.

Mrs. John Staples entertained at a pretty 6 o'clock dinner Thursday evening in celebration of her husband's birthday.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Staples, Mr. and Mrs. William H. M. Staples, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Poltek, Mrs. Ida Reed, Mrs. Ed. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Davis, Miss Cecil Staples, Milton Winner, Harold Poltek, Robert Reed, Charles Staples, the hostess and the honor guest.

Mrs. Walter Scott was hostess to the members of the Ideal club at her home on W. Spring-st. Thursday. The afternoon was enjoyed socially, Mrs. Charles Oliver and Mrs. Scott favoring with musical selections. The hostess was assisted in serving tea by Mrs. Virgil DeGrief.

Joint meeting of the Lotus, Arbutus and Woman's clubs which were to have been held Monday at the home of Mrs. E. A. Williams. S. Cole-st. has been postponed indefinitely because of inability of Prof. Anderson, Oberlin college, who was to address the members to be present.

Miss Frieda Prosser leaves Saturday for Pittsburgh where she will enjoy a week's visit with Misses Kate and Noddie Muldoy.

Meeting of the Ladies' Social Circle of the U. T. C. has been postponed until Saturday, April 2.

GIRL, 13 WORRIES MOTHER

(By SUSIE SMART)

Dear Miss Smart: I HAVE a daughter 13 years old and she is causing me a great deal of worry. She thinks that she is old enough to go with the boys and all I do is scold, scold, scold. I know that she is not old enough and I won't have her go with them, but she gets angry whenever I refuse to allow her to go. Please tell me what to do.

A MOTHER.

The best solution to your problem is that you cease your scolding, scolding, scolding. Young girls are just like older persons, in that constant scolding has the same effect on them as constant nagging has on grown persons. Too much scolding and nagging loses its proper effect and in time causes resentment.

The better plan for you is to talk matters over with your daughter in a sensible way. Talk to her the same as you would an older person and I am certain that she will respect your wishes. Tell her that a girl of 13 is much too young to go with the boys and that instead of occupying her mind with thoughts of them she should plan little affairs which she could enjoy with her girl friends. Explain that carefully and

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the officers of the confederation of Young People's societies met at Trinity church and elected the following officers: Miss Irene Wagner, president; Miss R. C. Gray, vice-president; Miss Dorothy Robinson, secretary of devotion; Mrs. R. V. Mooney, secretary of missions; Miss Dorothy McBride, secretary of social service; Gaylord Bogardus, secretary of recreation; Elwood Thomas, treasurer; Miss Bowers, secretary of correspondence and recording secretary, Mr. Robert Shiverdecker, pianist.

Next meeting will be held the first of July in the South Side church of Christ.

Final meeting of the year of the Progressive Excuse club was enjoyed in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Elks' home Thursday. A color scheme of yellow and lavender was used thruout in the table appointments and centering the table was a large vase of sweet peas. Lavender candles with bows of tulle adorned the ends of the table. Following luncheon excursions were presented as diversion. Guests included Mrs. George Overholtz, Tiffin and Mrs. Elmer Barth.

Members present included Mrs. Samuel Baumgardner, Mrs. Earl Snyder, Mrs. I. W. Brown, Mrs. J. Gustenbender, Mrs. Carey Hartzog, Mrs. Harry Taffinger, Mrs. Thomas Townsend, Mrs. John Bowers, Mrs. John Casman, Mrs. Earl Mast and Mrs. Ira Busick.

Members of the Kappa Sigma class of the Central Church of Christ will meet at the home of Miss Birdie Smith, 914 E. Elm-st., Saturday afternoon, at 2:30.

KID SCANLAN-By H. C. Witwer

A little electric buzzer makes good while Honest Dan is ravin' away, and Dan, gettin' white, grabs the kid by the arm and begs him to come to the rescue.

"Jump in that cabinet there!" he whispers to him. "And when this dame asks if you're Henry, say yes. Honest Dan tells them to be the guy with the blonde hair, and she's now at the City hospital. That's all you got to say and—"

He shows the kid back of the cabinet and me back of a curtain just as Cleopatra blows in with her daughter. Honest Dan tells them to be seated quick, because the professor has just got the spirit of her husband where he's ready to talk to the reporters.

"Now," whispers Dan to the stout dame, "speak quick!"

"—is that you, Henry?" squeaks Cleopatra in a tremblin' voice.

There's a rustle in the cabinet and then this comes out over the top.

"This guy is crooked, crazy and careless. He will take you for your beautiful bulgin' bankroll and be the 'Merciful Heavens!' yells the dame. 'A sign, Henry, shall I go back?'

"Back is right!" says the voice. "These guys is cheap crooks and they ain't no Marc Anthony!"

The lights go out and Honest Dan comes to rushin' over to the stout dame with a million alibis tryin' to be first out of his mouth. I beat it round to the back, but the professor has gone somewhere else while the game was fair to medium.

"You have deceived me, you watch!" screams the stout dame. "You have!"

"This is as far as she got, because right in the middle of it she pulls a faint, and daughter rushes her to the floor. The kid hops out of the cabinet and grabs Honest Dan.

"Beat it, you rat," bawls Scanlan, before I commit mayhem!"

From the way Honest Dan went out of that room, he must have passed Samson the first hour!

"HAP! All—Life is Reel!"

The kid and me is out to Film City again, and we're sittin' in Duke's office one mornin', when in walks Edmund De Vronde. Edmund has caused more salesladies to take their pens in hand than any other actor in the world.

"Hello, Cutie!" says the kid, who liked De Vronde and carbolic acid the same way.

"I've come to ask a favor," says De Vronde. "What I want will cost you nothing. That is—practically nothing. My dresser—the silly idiot!—tendered me his resignation this mornin'!"

"Well, what's all this gotta do with me?" asks Duke. "I can't be bothered diggin' up valets to see that you got plenty of fresh vanilla cold cream every mornin' and that they's ample powder on the chiffernier! I got!"

"I have already secured a man," interrupts De Vronde. "He happens to be a— a— friend of mine. The poor fellow is desperately in need of work. So if you'll kindly telegraph the fare to this address," goes on De Vronde. "I'll be obliged."

With that he blows.

A week later, me and the kid is standin' near the entrance to Film City talkin' to Miss Vincent, when a young feller blows in through the gates and walks up to us.

He ain't a thousand miles from here, good-lookin', and his chin is well cut and square, like at one time he'd been willin' to hustle for his wants and fight for 'em once he got 'em, but that time ain't now.

"Pardon me," he says, talkin' off his hat. "Where can I find Mister De Vronde?"

The kid puts his hand on his arm and swings him around.

"You'll prob'ly find him over behind the street scene in Venice," he tells him. "If he ain't there, look around the Sahara desert for him— know him when you see him?"

The other guy looks at us for a minute like he thinks he's been kidded. Then he pulls a slow, tired grin. "I think so," he says. "Thanks."

When he walks away, I turns to Miss Vincent.

"That's prob'ly Cutie De Vronde's new guarden," I says. "I guess he's—"

"He doesn't look like a valet," says Miss Vincent, finda doubtful. "The next mornin' it turns out that I can guess like a rabbit can run. The new entry on the payroll borrows a match from me, and during the tete-a-tete that followed, I find out that his name is John R. Adams and, as far as the world in general and America in particular is concerned, it could be been George C. Mud.- Durm's lifetime— twenty-nine years he's been on earth, he's tried his hand at everything from bankin' to bartenderin', and so far the only thing he's been a success at is bein' a failure."

"How did you happen to meet this big stiff De Vronde?" says I.

Adams gets pale for a second and clears his throat.

"I'm working for him," he says slowly, like he's thinkin' over each word before lettin' it go, "and I don't care to discuss him."

At just that minute, De Vronde, Miss Vincent, the kid and another dame come rollin' up in Miss Vincent's twelve-cylinder garage-mechanic's friend. De Vronde hops out and walks over to us, wa'in his cane and frownin'.

"Look here," he bawls at Adams. "I thought I told you to be at the east gate with my duster and goggles! You've kept me waiting half an hour, while you're gossipin' around! Really, if you're goin' to start this way I shall have to get another man. Look sharp now, no excuses!"

"Here's where the fair Edmund gets his and gets it good!" hisses Duke in my ear, lookin' at Adams.

"I'm very sorry," says Adams, suddenly. "I should have remembered."

And without another word or look he exits.

"Tollah!" snorts the kid. "No spine!" sneers Miss Vincent. "Nice-lookin' how—who is he?" asks the other dame, lookin' after him.

When they're gone, Duke turns to me and grins.

"Did you notice that strange dame which was with Miss Vincent in the car just now?" Well," he says, "this dame is Miss Dorothy Devine. When her father died last year, she became an orphan."

"Well, that's tough," I says. "Me and the kid will kick in any amount in reason and—"

"Halt!" said Eddie. "Her dear old she is, I claim that bird will make good! All that guy needs is a reason for tryin', and she can make herself it!"

"You don't expect a day's like that to make love to a guy, that's clean De Vronde's shoes, do you?" I asks him.

"You must of been a terrible trial to teacher when you went to school!" he snorts. "No!—I don't want her to make love to him."

"I want her to cut him dead, because he's a valet, and let him know that's the reason. Who put Adam over? Eve! All right, I'm gonna win this thing up and let it go. I'll take the best scenes from the last six pictures we put out, and make Adams and Miss Devine play 'em out, with one of 'em knowin' it. They oughta be a villain, and I'm shy one just now, but I'll lay sk to five that one will turn up!"

"Look here," I says, "suppose Miss Devine should fall for this Adams guy for real! Did you ever figure that?"

"Yes!" he snorts. "And suppose the Pacific ocean is made outa root beer!"

I guess Miss Devine must of been a sport, because Duke starts his stunts off the next day. She promised to give Adams a month to show signs of life and to do exactly as Duke tells her. Adams ain't to be told a thing about it, and Miss Devine giggles herself sick over how she's gonna show Duke the difference between real life and the movies. They put up a thousand bucks apiece. The first action came off when Miss Devine and Adams meet in the "Sahara Desert" set.

"Good morning!" pipes Adams, bowin' and raisin' his hat.

"I beg your pardon!" comes back Miss Devine, drawin' herself up and presentin' him with a glance that's colder than a dollar's worth of ice.

"—I said good morning!" stammers Adams, kinda flustered.

"That will do!" she cuts him off. "I'm not in the habit of arguing with servants. You may go!"

The poor kid looks like he'd stopped one with his chin and for the first time since I'd seen him, he straightens up with his hard, white face fairly quiverin'. I thought he was ready for a peach of a comeback, but he fooled me. He walks off without a word.

Miss Devine laughs like a kid with a new rattle and snaps her fingers after him.

The next day Duke is directin' a scene in a big thriller they're puttin' on and Miss Devine is appearin' in it as a super at his orders. She's wearin' enough jewels to free Ireland and she looked better than 1912 would look to Germany. Adams is standin' on one side with his arms full of De Vronde's different changes.

Duke looks at Miss Devine for a minute and then raises his voice.

"Say—you!" he bawls at her. "What's the matter, can't you hear? You made that exit wrong four times in a row! What d'ye mean by comin' here and ruinin' this scene on me? You wanna be a movie star, they tell me, well, you got the same chance that I have of bein' made Sultan of Turkey! If you can act, I'm King of Shantung! Why—"

Miss Devine gasps and looks more than ever like a rose, by turnin' a deep and becomin' shade of red. Nobody pays any attention to the thing. They'd all heard a million times before, when Duke was rehearsin' lopers.

Nobody but Adams!

He drops all of De Vronde's clothes right on the floor, and I thought the fair Edmund would faint away dead! Adams walks right through the camera men up to Duke and swings him around while he's still hawkin' out Miss Devine.

"That's enough!" he snarls, white to the ears. "One more word to this lady, and I'll knock you down! You hound—you wouldn't dare use that language to a man!"

Duke's eyes sparkle but he looks Adams over coldly and sneers.

Adams hesitates a minute, and then he looks like on second thought he's scared at what he's done. He mumbles somethin' and walks right out the picture, not even turnin' when he Vronde squawks at him for walkin' over his silk duster which he'd thrown on the floor.

"That's all for now, ladies and gentlemen!" pipes Duke suddenly, turnin' to the bunch. "I'll shoot the rest of this to-morrow."

GARBAGE MENACE TO HEALTH

Its Removal Necessity For Public Welfare, Sutter Says

"Much ado is being made about spitting on the sidewalks yet nothing has been done so far regarding the method of disposing of the city garbage," said Mr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner, Friday. "The health menace from garbage is many times greater than that of spitting on the sidewalks. This does not mean that expectoration in public should be permitted, but enforcement of one ordinance should not be played up and another health menace utterly ignored.

"As the weather gets warmer, garbage cans will become breeding places for all kinds of diseases and unless steps are taken to dispose of the refuse in a sanitary manner, an epidemic of some kind may follow. Lima is no longer a country village and this problem must be solved in a big way.

Dumping of garbage on farms outside of the city limits has been forbidden by Dr. Sutter, who states that the unsanitary methods of the past have imperiled the health of many people. "Some plan must be devised and put into operation by the city to take care of the refuse and at the same time not to endanger public health by promiscuous dumping on farm land," says Sutter.

FINAL REHEARSAL IS HELD FOR CENTRAL CLASS PLAY

Many difficulties can arise over simply telling the truth. This is proven conclusively in the comedy "Nothing But the Truth," that is to be presented by the Senior Class of Central High at the Central High Auditorium Friday night.

The cast is well selected and should be a success. The Senior play is the one big event in the Senior year and all students are determined to make it a hit.

The dress rehearsal was held Thursday and everything in show in readiness for the presentation of the play.

LODGE NOTICES

Ladies of the G.A.R. will meet in regular session Monday evening at Memorial hall. All members urged to be present. Secretary.

"APRIL FOOL" JOKES HELD FULL SWAY ON OPENING DAY OF FOURTH MONTH OF YEAR

All the time honored April Fool stunts were worked Friday with their customary success. The pocket book with a string attached, the old derby with a brick under it, the special delivery letter with nothing in it, delivered in the wee small hours and fake ambulance calls were features of the day.

An old pocket book lay half concealed under the mail box at High and Main for a couple of hours before a man picked it up. A smile covered his face as he peeped inside and then shoved it into his pocket. The crowd that watched him are still wondering whether the joke was on him or them.

A high school press agent called up one of the newspapers and sternly told them to print "Nothing But The Truth" in the paper today. The girl who answered the call was puzzled for a moment until she remembered that "Nothing But The Truth" is the name of the Central High play to be given tonight.

LIQUOR LAW CHARGES AGAINST J. M. SULLIVAN DROPPED BY SLEUTHS

Charges that he was illegally in possession of whiskey against J. M. Sullivan, proprietor of a cafe, Jackson and Pearl sts. in Justice W. H. Guyton's court, were ordered dropped Thursday afternoon. Sullivan was discharged.

Sullivan was arrested when Anti-saloon agents conducted a raid here on Tuesday, March 22.

"It is not our object to persecute anyone," Inspector Watts of the Ohio Anti-saloon League staff of workers, said after the hearing Thursday. "I have made investigations in the neighborhood of this soft drink place and I find that it bears a fair reputation. Sullivan is taking care of his aged parents and a brother who had a leg cut off in a railroad accident. Sullivan himself has had both legs cut off and is a cripple. We have warned him and dropped the charges."

Sullivan is an unmarried man, about 28 years of age. Inspectors Watts and Probst stated they would remain in the city for a few days. They declined to state whether any more arrests would be made before they leave.

ITALY WOULD JOIN NEW LEAGUE

Ready to Discuss Association
With U. S., Ambassador Says

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — "Italy is ready and willing to discuss with the United States a new association of nations," Senator Antonio Rolandi Ricci, Italian ambassador, declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

"Italy is desirous of peace for herself and others," Ambassador Ricci said. "She is willing, therefore, to discuss with any one and all of the powers any form of combination of the powers which would insure peace to the peoples of the world."

"Therefore, my government has no need to give here at the present time one form rather than another of a league of nations or any modification of the existing league."

It is when a concrete project will be formulated by any power that may take up the formulation of such a program and this project is presented to the Italian government for its consideration the Italian government will examine it with the greatest desire to make a general agreement easier and always with the desire to pacify the world once for all.

Of course, it is understood that Italy will always insist that no one of her rights and interests be violated. But for just this reason, Italy cannot risk any greater sacrifice after having contributed with a great victory to the victory of all."

LAKE NAVIGATION SEASON IS OPEN

CLEVELAND — (By United Press) — The 1921 navigation season was ushered in today when the steamers Jenkins and Shaughnessy, coal-laden, turned their prows into Lake Erie bound for Michigan ports.

They were the first to leave port of the boats which wintered here. Lake traffic will begin in earnest April 15, Chief Clerk J. A. Armstrong of the Lake Carriers' Association said today.

Shipping men said there are good prospects for the busiest lake season in Cleveland's history.

The steamer Rumania was the first boat to cross Lake Erie $300 to Detroit for Buffalo Sunday.

TOUGH STEAK LEADS TO MAN'S ARREST

COLUMBUS. — Patrick O'Neill, bricklayer, of Cambridge, Ohio, cried in municipal court today when accused of petit larceny while intoxicated.

O'Neill's troubles began when he came here from Prospect to buy whiskey for a group of fellow workmen, he said. Early today O'Neill visited a restaurant and ordered a double steak. He refused to pay for it when he couldn't cut it and neither could the waiter. A policeman called to settle the argument, found O'Neill with the leavings of the whiskey and a pocket full of coffee cups.

The larceny charge against O'Neill was dismissed today, but he was fined by Judge Seidel for drunkenness.

TRAFFIC VIOLATORS DRAW COURT FINES

Two traffic law violators were arraigned before Judge Emmett Jackson in criminal court Friday morning.

R. P. Diakel, 22, of 28 Terrace-st, was fined $1 for driving on the wrong side of N. Central-ave. He was fined $1.

Charged with speeding his automobile at 30 miles per hour along W. Market-st. Albert Singleton, 24, of 835 N. Union-st, was fined $10.

FIFTEEN INITIATED INTO MYSTERIES OF ELK LODGE

Fifteen candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Elkdom Thursday night. The work was put on by the officers of the local lodge.

Following the initiation one of the most pleasing entertainments ever held by the lodge was enjoyed by the members.

The Lima membership is fast mounting and is nearing the 2,000 mark. It is expected that it will pass this mark before the close of the year.

GOVERNOR MAY BE RECALLED

Election on Question Ordered in North Dakota

DEVIL'S LAKE, N. D. — (By Associated Press) — Petitions calling for a recall election against three state officials, elected with Non-partisan league endorsement, will be circulated soon, it was announced today, following the decision last night of the Anti-Non-partisan convention here in ordering such action. The election will be held on or before November 8, 1921.

In addition to seeking the recall of Governor Lynn J. Frazier, William Lemke, attorney general and J. N. Hagau, commissioner of agriculture and labor, three members comprising the state industrial commission, the Anti-Non-partisans will have submitted to the voters at the same time a series of constitutional amendments, which would change the state-owned industrial program.

Principal among these would be liquidation of the Bank of North Dakota and abandonment of the state-owned industries with the exception of the Grand Forks Mill and Elevator. A bond issue of $5,000,000 to retire outstanding bonds and pay all liabilities of the Bank of North Dakota is provided for.

A Nestos Minot, Republican, is the choice of the Anti-Non-partisans for governor. Reports from Bismarck were that Non-Partisan League legislative committee will institute a counter recall against independent state officials.

We Want Victor Clothes
To Make Good—
Therefore,
We Make Them Good

WE are as vitally interested in the fact that your suit of Victor clothes gives you satisfaction as you are yourself. We IDENTIFY that suit by putting OUR LABEL in it--if it does not give you good wear that is the end of Victor clothes for you. On the other hand if it DOES give satisfaction we have gained a PERMANENT customer for Victor clothes.

So you see it is just common sense and good business policy for us to make Victor clothes the best moderately priced, ready-to-wear clothing that you can buy.

Look for the Victor Label

It is a GUARANTEE to you that clothing bearing it is made of all wool fabrics; strictly hand tailored and silk sewn. That the styles are up-to-the-minute fashionable and in good taste.

In short, the Victor Label stands for all that YOU want in clothing.

Walk-Over

THE MASTER

It is a new shape in the new brown shade

Another Walk-Over combination-fitting oxford is something entirely new in shoe construction. Not only new in style, but in the cast of the shoe. It has the right instep fit that evenly distributes all the weight. It feels good.

The heel fits as though it were tailored. It is wide at the bottom and converges at the top. It would stay on without lacing.

The new brown shade is a deep, rich tone. Not a surface color, but right in the Russian leather. Also in black and tan leathers. $12.00

NO CLUE TO PAIR WHO BOUND, GAGGED AND ROBBED GEORGE LENTZ

Police Friday were without a clue as to the identity of the robbers who entered the home of George Lentz, 422 E. Pearl-st., early Thursday morning and tied Lentz' arms and legs and stuffed the end of a sheet in his mouth so he would be unable to give an alarm.

After the pair of intruders had fled, Lentz struggled to a wall and kicked on it to arouse his sister, who resides in the opposite part of the house. She fortunately heard him, went to his aid and removed the gag from his mouth.

Police were immediately called and three plainclothesmen responded. They found the house ransacked from top to bottom. Drawers were pulled out and the rooms presented a wrecked appearance. Lentz looked into the muzzle of a revolver under the glare of a flashlight when he started to arise from his bed after hearing a noise in his room, he told police and was ordered by the intruders to lie still and make no alarm.

Lentz said his assailants left him on the floor after he had been trussed up. One of them was a large man and the other small.

The robbers secured $17.70.

MUTT AND JEFF—EVIDENTLY J. GEEKY WAS A HARD-BOILED EGG—

—By Bud Fisher

SHORT SHAVINGS

"I suppose you marry a lot of eloping couples, squire. Quite a source of income, eh?"
"Yes; I get $5 for marryin' each couple an' they come in such darned haste I add five 'em $10 more for speedin'."

"Helen, I really cannot permit you to read novels on the Sabbath."
"But, grandma, this one is all right; it tells about a girl who was engaged to three Episcopal clergymen all at once."

"We had a wedding out on Long Beach last night an' the bride got all flustered on account of the delay," Sammy explained one morning.

"What caused the delay?"
"We had to telephone clear down to a Main street room to find the minister," was the eager reply.

"I say," protested the talkative swain, interrupted in the midst of a tender conversation by the impatient voice of a third party, "you're on a busy wire."
"Is that all?" roared the impatient voice. "I thought I'd landed in a vat of soft soap."

"I know where we can buy a few real cocktails before dinner."
"Yes, but the way prices are now, if we buy the cocktails we won't be able to buy the dinner."

"By jove, Milly, you look topping tonight, but what a fearful lot your frocks cost me these days!"

"Gilbert, dearest, what does money matter when it's a case of making you happy?"

PORTSMOUTH — At a meeting of the Ministerial association, Mayor William Gableman announced police would not arrest store proprietors who have their shops open on Sunday. Blue laws have been strictly enforced since November.
